SENATE VOTES IN FAVOR OF BONUS BILL!

Reach Half Way Mark Today In Drive!

SHOW FAITH IN FUTURE OF CITY

Many Making Investments In Fund to Further Boost Glendale

The half-way mark has been reached in Glendale's $50,000 advertising fund drive, it was announced at the luncheon of majors, captains and team workers held this noon at the Harriett Mae Tea room, 201 East Harvard street, the total now standing at $24,407.50, of which $4,549.50 was subscribed since noon yesterday.

Tomorrow will be "wildcat" day, when the forty captains and their teams will work at random over the city, getting subscriptions wherever possible. And in addition the button drive will be on for memberships in the "Glendale 100,000 club," memberships selling at $1 each and red buttons being the insignia of honor.

Total by Divisions

Special committees of several men will call upon local business men and property owners who have not yet contributed to the advertising fund, it was decided, after consultation with Chairman M. Walters of the ways and means committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and P. B. Ogden, drive director.

Following is the total by divisions, as it stood this noon:

	Yesterday Today	Total
No. 1....	$ 882 $ 515.00	$1397.00
No. 2....	2246 1769.50	4015.50
No. 3....	271 1365.00	1636.00
No. 4....	200 900.00	1100.00

Added to the $19,858 announced yesterday, this makes a sum total of $24,407.50 that has to date been subscribed, or approximately half of the $50,000 set as the amount necessary to advertise Glendale to America this year.

Dr. H. R. Boyer, prominent Glendale physician and surgeon, was today asked by Chairman M. Walters of the Chamber of Commerce ways and means committee to serve as major of the newly formed "Physicians' Division" of the $50,000 advertising fund drive.

This makes five majors now working to raise this fund for advertising the city, the other four being Lyman P. Clark, Charles B. Guthrie, R. E. Johnston and George B. Karr.

Women to Aid

Everybody in Glendale is to become a member of the "Glendale 100,000 Club" at $1 a membership, if the women of this city

MONTANA SOLON SCORES IN PROBE

L. A. Lawyer Denies Wheeler Acted for Campbell In Oil Leases

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler won another round today in the senatorial investigation of his "fitness to hold office," resulting from his indictment by a federal grand jury in Montana.

Wheeler was given a "clean bill of health" by L. V. Beaulieu, of Los Angeles, attorney for Gordon Campbell, on all charges contained in the indictment. Beaulieu flatly denied that Wheeler ever had represented Campbell on oil leases or government permits.

Warring Factions In Honduras Hold Peace Conference

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The warring factions which have kept Honduras in a revolutionary state for months were brought together in a peace conference today aboard the U. S. S. Milwaukee, in the harbor of Amapala, according to a report to the state department from Sumner Welles, President Coolidge's personal mediator.

Thaw Still Menace To Society, Warns His Divorced Wife

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 23.—"Harry K. Thaw is still the same menace to society and it won't be long until he breaks loose again. Then look out."

This was the comment today of Evelyn Nesbit, divorced wife of Thaw, when she learned of the jury verdict in Philadelphia, which, for the third time in twenty years, frees Thaw from correctional institutions.

THAW HAPPY OVER SANITY VERDICT

New York Kidnaping Charge To Be Decided Before Freedom Complete

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—Harry Thaw, jubilant over a jury's verdict declaring him sane, said today he has no definite plans for the future, but does hope "to drop out of the limelight."

"I don't know just what I'll do next, or what my lawyer wants me to do," Thaw said. "But now that the case is over, I want everything to quiet down."

Still In Custody

Thaw, talking rather incoherently, said he might go to New York and plead not guilty to an indictment there charging him with kidnaping and assaulting Frederick Gump, Jr., of Kansas City. He also said he would accompany his 82-year-old mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, to their home at Cresson, near Pittsburgh, as soon as he could.

Thaw's freedom, despite the verdict of the jury, is not yet a reality. The Pittsburgh millionaire, by direction of Judge Monaghan, was continued in the custody of the Pennsylvania hospital for mental and nervous diseases under the original order of commitment. This means, it was said today, that Thaw must await at the institution final judgment of the Gump case.

HOLD AGED WOMAN IN DEATH PROBE

Officers Discount Suicide Theory; Arrest Mother Of Poison Victim

UKIAH, Cal., April 23.—Mysterious circumstances surrounding three violent deaths in the family of Mrs. Anna G. Matson, 65, were being investigated by Mendocino county authorities today while the gray-haired pioneer woman was held in the county jail following the death of her son, John Matson, 24.

Young Matson was found in a field near his home apparently a victim of poison. A poison vial was found in his pocket. Nearby was a stick of wood on which he had whittled the words "Good bye." It was apparently a case of suicide.

Mother Arrested

Deputy sheriffs, however, declared that mother and son had a violent quarrel shortly before the body was found. They said that they were never satisfied with their investigation of the shooting of another son, Walter, a few years ago, nor with the explanation of the death of the father several years ago. The aged mother was taken into custody pending the result of the inquiry now under way.

Pinchot In Epigram Admits His Defeat

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 23.—The vote at yesterday's primaries "does not represent the conscience and heart of Pennsylvania."

With this epigram, Governor Gifford Pinchot today virtually acknowledged defeat in his fight yesterday with Ralph Beaver Strassburger, Morristown publisher, for delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention.

WALKOUT ENDED

LONDON, April 23.—The British shipyard walkout was ended today.

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery Is Elected New President Of Tuesday Afternoon Club

RESULTS OF BALLOTING ARE TOLD

Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., Chosen Vice-President Of Organization

Results of the annual election of the Tuesday Afternoon club, held yesterday afternoon, were announced today. The following officers and directors were chosen:

MRS. A. H. MONTGOMERY, president.

MRS. JOHN ROBERT WHITE, JR., first vice-president.

MRS. HOMER D. LOCKWOOD, second vice-president.

MRS. CHESTER O. KLING, recording secretary.

MRS. H. C. WILCOX, corresponding secretary.

MRS. A. R. CHAPPELL, treasurer.

MRS. S. C. PACKER, director.

MRS MABEL FRANKLIN OCKER, director.

Judging from the crowds of women that thronged the clubhouse from 1 till 4 o'clock, the hours the polls were open, slightly more than one-half the club membership of 949 women participated in the election.

Election Board

Mrs. Lillian Dow, chairman, and Mesdames Libbie Cutting, J. H. Toal, A. M. Hunt and E. B. Sutton, of the election board, are being congratulated on their devoted service and systematic management. They were on duty, many of them, from 9 o'clock in the morning, until the final result was recorded at 9 o'clock last night.

The voting was held in the banquet room of the clubhouse. The club members were formed into a single file line by members of the board of directors, and filed through the palm room into the banquet hall, past a table where the by-laws were placed for signing, then past another table where membership cards were shown, then past a table where ballots were given out and then voting took place and ballots were placed in a ballot box.

Harmony Prevails

As had been ordered by the board of directors, there was no electioneering within the clubhouse and every phase of the election was carried off in order and good spirit.

Among the 500 or more women participating in the election was Mrs. Charles H. Toll, life member of the club and president of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs, who has just returned from a pleasure trip north, and came to the clubhouse yesterday to cast her ballot in the election of her home club.

According to the by-laws of the club, owing to the fact that it was impossible to announce election returns at the club meeting yesterday, successful candidates are being made known today through the newspapers, and at the meeting next Tuesday the number of votes cast and received by each candidate will be announced.

Prominent in Work

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery's election to the presidency will be an event of wide interest in California club circles and particularly in the Los Angeles District, where

Mrs. Evans Extends Congratulations to Mrs. Montgomery

Mrs. W. E. Evans asks The Glendale Evening News to make public the following:

I wish to extend to Mrs. A. H. Montgomery my congratulations and good wishes on her election to the presidency of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

I am deeply grateful to the loyal supporters who were so earnest in my behalf and I thank them collectively and individually.

MRS. W. E. EVANS.

April 23, 1924.

MRS. A. H. MONTGOMERY, who was yesterday afternoon elected to the presidency of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

ENGLISH PAPERS PRAISE ADDRESS

Coolidge's Plea for Dawes' Plan Finds Favor In British Journals

LONDON, April 23.—President Coolidge's speech, especially his plea for the Dawes' reparation plan, and general disarmament, was warmly welcomed in England. It was admitted in official circles that Premier Ramsay Macdonald is prepared to support any disarmament movement the United States may make.

Some newspapers intimated that the speech might be regarded as a warning to France not to attempt to wreck the Dawes' plan or any future attempt to bring about a disarmament conference.

Anxious for Statement

Premier Macdonald has been anxious for a definite statement that the United States supports the Dawes' plan. He has felt ever since the plan was published that a statement of its support by America would aid in bringing France into line.

Premier Macdonald feels, with President Coolidge, that the reparations problem which has disturbed Europe for so many years must be settled first.

Twenty-one Slain as Swiss Trains Crash

GENEVA, April 23.—At least twenty-one persons were burned to death in the crash of two express trains filled with excursionists near Bellinsona today. That number of charred bodies had been recovered several hours after the disaster. Most of the victims were Germans.

It was said the engineer of the Milan-Gothard express ignored a signal, sending his train crashing into an express from Lucerne on a grade. The Lucerne train was drawn by two locomotives and the crews of all three engines were killed.

Confessed Slayer of Girl Leaps to Death

CHICAGO, April 23.—James Petrucci, alias James De Joy, confessed slayer of Anna De Joy, the girl he married after deserting his wife and two children, plunged from a third story window in the detective bureau today and fatally injured himself. He was lifted from the sidewalk, his face crushed and several bones broken, and died en route to the hospital.

CHARGES TERRORISM

LONDON, April 23.—Ex-King George of Greece, in a message to the Daily Mail today charged that terrorism ruled the plebiscite that established a republic in Greece. He said he awaited the moment when the Greeks would recall him to the throne.

MORE RAINS FOR STATE, FORECAST

Total for Glendale Up to Present Is 8.58 Inches; Storm General

WEATHER: Unsettled tonight and Thursday with probably occasional showers.

Glendale said it with showers yesterday when it welcomed the Hatfield brothers home from their rain-making campaign in the north, and the rain that fell last night and this morning added .67 inches to the seasonal record, which now stands at 8.58.

H. E. Bartlett of 333 West Broadway, faithful keeper of local rain records, adds that one year ago the seasonal record was 12.02.

Showers Continue

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—Starting as a light mist early last evening, showers that developed into a small downpour after 5 a. m. were expected to continue intermittently today, according to the United States weather bureau here. One-half inch of rain had fallen up to 7 o'clock in Los Angeles.

No rain was reported from San Bernardino, Riverside, or Old Town, while Pomona had a precipitation of .20 of an inch and Pasadena .45. A slight rain was reported from Santa Barbara last night.

More Moisture

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—A moderate storm over Nevada caused the general rainfall last night and today from Paso Robles and Fresno south to Los Angeles. Traces of rain fell as far north as Mount Wilson and Stockton. San Pedro reported an even inch of rainfall; Santa Barbara .30, and other points smaller amounts.

Small craft warnings were ordered up today from Port San Luis south to San Diego. The rain was expected to continue throughout the San Joaquin valley and the southland tonight and tomorrow, the weather bureau said, while predictions were that some portions of Northern California would get rain tonight. Warmer weather is in prospect for Thursday.

America to Maintain Grecian Relations

WASHINGTON, April 23.—There will be no change in the relations between the United States and Greece growing out of the fall of the Greek monarchy, according to an exchange of official communications between the two governments, made public by the state department today.

Coolidge Returns to Duties at Capital

WASHINGTON, April 23.—After a day's absence from Washington, President Coolidge was at his desk bright and early this morning. The president and Mrs. Coolidge reached the capital last night from New York, going directly from the train to the White House.

Daniels Sought to Conserve Navy Oil, Declares Officer

WASHINGTON, April 23.—"The policy of Josephus Daniels with respect to the navy's oil reserves was "to keep as much oil in the ground as possible," Commander H. A. Stuart, who was in charge of the reserves when Daniels was secretary of the navy, said today in a letter to Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana. Stuart is now on duty with the Sinclair receivers in Wyoming.

DAVID BLACK RESIGNS AS MANAGER

Business Head of City Schools Quits Position; Plan Bond Issue

David J. Black, business manager of the Glendale city Board of Education and a member of the board in various capacities for the past twelve years, last night tendered his resignation to the board, effective June 1.

In tendering his resignation, Mr. Black stated that with the rapid growth of the city schools in the past two years, the work had become too arduous and confining, and he desired to have more time for himself.

Friendly Relations

Relations with the other members of the board were very friendly, he stated. Although it is understood that several applications have been made for the position, no one has been appointed.

Mr. Black, who is a commissioner of the Presbyterian church in Southern California, plans to leave Glendale May 15 for the General Assembly to be held in Grand Rapids, Mich. He will be away three weeks.

Further than to state that he did not intend to leave Glendale, Mr. Black did not make known his future plans.

Decision With People

The settlement of the controversy between the Board of Education and the City Council over who should pay for street improvement work on school property will be left to the people to decide.

Mr. White was instructed by the board last night to inform Ben S. Dupuy, city engineer, that the board had at this time no funds to pay any street assessments, but at the next bond issue a certain sum would be set aside for this work, and if approved by the people, would be used for that purpose.

EMPIRE'S EXHIBIT OPENED BY KING

Nation's Products Displayed At Mammoth Show In British Capital

LONDON, April 23.—King George, Queen Mary and the Prince of Wales today formally opened the British empire exhibition at Wembley. It was estimated that 100,000 persons, drawn from all corners of the empire, attended. Despite the damp, gloomy weather, crowds began lining up before the gates at 6 o'clock in the morning.

A chorus of 10,000 persons sang an anthem at the opening ceremonies. King George's opening speech was broadcast around the world to all parts of the British empire.

Lasts All Summer

The exhibition is not yet fully complete, although thousands of workmen have been toiling day and night for the past two weeks.

The gigantic show will last all summer and will be the greatest thing of its kind in the history of the world. When the tourist season gets fully under way, it is estimated that two million persons will visit the exhibition weekly.

There are exhibitions from all parts of the empire and nearly every race in the world will be represented. The show cost approximately $150,000,000.

RUTH HITS HOMER

NEW YORK, April 23.—Babe Ruth hit his second home run of the season today in the last of the eighth against Boston with Howe on the mound.

Larceny Trial of Man on Death Bed Ends In Acquittal

CHICAGO, April 23.—A strange court, held around a death bed in a hospital ward, and its verdict acquitting a dying man of larceny, enabled John Roduriez to look out happily on the prospect of a decent burial at the end of the few days remaining to him.

His landlady, Mrs. Veronica Malretz, claimed that the $200 which Roduriez had saved for a burial fund, had been stolen from her and insisted Roduriez be tried. He was too ill to go to court, so Judge Daniel F. Trude took his court to the bedside of the dying man.

"All the money I have I earned honestly and saved, judge," the dying man testified. "I know I have only a few days to live and I don't want to be buried in poverty. I'm ready to die, and I wouldn't lie, judge."

"Not guilty," said the court.

JOHNSON BEATEN IN JERSEY VOTE

Coolidge Wins Decisively In Battle for Delegates Over Californian

TRENTON, N. J., April 23.—President Coolidge won a sweeping victory over Senator Hiram Johnson in Tuesday's Republican presidential primary, according to returns today from over 2000 of the state's 2500 election districts. Johnson apparently failed to win a single one of the state's thirty-one delegates to the national convention. With only 479 districts to be heard from, the vote was: Coolidge, 90,274; Johnson, 10,-487.

In the Democratic primary, Governor George S. Silver won an almost unanimous victory in his race. He was unopposed but a number of voters wrote in the name of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York.

Practically the only important fight in the Republican primary was that of the anti-saloon league against United States Senator Walter E. Edge and former Governor E. C. Stokes, Coolidge delegates-at-large. They ran even with the rest of the ticket.

Nearby Wells Drain Teapot Dome, Claim

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Between sixty and seventy per cent of Teapot Dome is subject to drainage by wells in the adjacent Salt creek field, James O. Lewis, consulting petroleum engineer of Tulsa, Okla., told the Senate public lands committee today.

Lewis, who made a geological study of Teapot Dome for the committee last fall, was recalled to the stand by Senator Spencer, Republican of Missouri.

Bandits Rob Banker Of $24,000 In Holdup

TAMPA, Fla., April 23.—Two gunmen today held up A. C. Clewis, a director of the Exchange National bank here, robbed him of approximately $24,000 and made their escape in a waiting automobile.

DECISION ON INSURANCE MEASURE REACHED

Copeland Amendment Not Favored; Changes In Various Sections

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The new soldiers' bonus bill, providing paid up insurances in lieu of cash for about 4,000,000 veterans of the World War, was passed by the Senate this afternoon.

Having passed the House by a large majority, the bill, after minor differences have been adjusted between the two houses, will go to President Coolidge.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Clearing the way for a final vote on the new soldiers' bonus bill, the Senate this afternoon rejected an amendment by Senator Royal S. Copeland, Democrat, of New York, providing for cash payments instead of the paid-up insurance policies offered in the House

In offering his cash bonus proposal, Copeland broke away from the Democratic leaders of the Senate, who agreed to support the insurance plan. The vote was 47 to 38.

Vote On Amendments

The first amendment voted upon was a proposal by Senator Smith of South Carolina to fix at 2 per cent the interest rate to be charged by banks in loaning veterans money on the government insurance policies provided for in the bill.

The amendment was defeated by a vote of 41 to 38, the Senate accepting the House provision for a rate not higher than 2 per cent more than the prevailing federal reserve rate.

Make Changes

The Senate defeated by a vote of 43 to 35 an amendment by Senator Brookhart, Republican, of Iowa, authorizing the government rather than banks to make loans at 4½ per cent upon the insurance certificates.

An amendment to exempt veterans from compound interest on defaulted payment of loans made with the policy as collateral, proposed by Senator Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi, was adopted by a vote of 42 to 38.

For Final Vote

The Senate defeated an amendment by Senator Jones, Democrat, of New Mexico, to let soldiers of the army of occupation in Germany share in the award.

Another amendment by Senator Jones which would strike out that part of the bill preventing the beneficiaries under the war risk insurance act of deceased veterans from sharing in the adjusted compensation was adopted, 41 to 37.

Debate was restricted to a minimum, with only one long speech scheduled—that of Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, whose opposition to any kind of a bonus is one of the planks upon which he is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination. Underwood was the first speaker.

Chief among the amendments

WIDOW OF JAKE HAMON TO FACE QUIZ

CHICAGO, April 23.—Mrs. Georgia Hamon Rohrer, widow of Jake Hamon, Republican leader of Oklahoma, left for Washington this afternoon in answer to a subpoena from the Wheeler-Brookhart committee. She will be questioned regarding conditions said to have preceded the nomination of President Harding in Chicago. Jake Hamon's name has been brought into testimony before the committee in connection with deals said to have been considered at Chicago.

WARN OF COST IN FIGHTING SCOURGE

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—At a meeting of the county Board of Supervisors today it was declared that Los Angeles county will be bankrupt within ten days unless the expense of fighting the disease is drastically cut. Between $10,000 and $15,000 is being spent daily and unless the federal government takes charge immediately the county will have to pay its expenses by drawing warrants. More than $400,000 is said to have been spent during the last couple of weeks.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blumenthal, 722 North Central avenue, accompanied by Mrs. Blumenthal's brother, Lawrence Vogle, of Springfield, Ohio, have just returned from an enjoyable pleasure trip to San Diego.

Mrs. C. A. Perry, 111 North Louise street, has had as her guest during the past two months her great aunt, Mrs. Elwood, of Long Beach, who has been ill during recent weeks. Another guest at the Perry home is an uncle from Roseburr, Ore.

Among the Glendalians attending the installation of the White Shrine of Long Beach last night were Mr. and Mrs. George Pierce, Mrs. Libbie Cutting and Miss Lucile Corbet. During the program Mrs. Pierce gave two readings.

Leona Hunt, talented pupil of Pearl Keller, gave a clever gypsy dance Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Seville theatre in Inglewood in connection with the showing of the film, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame."

Missionary Grateful For Glendale Gifts

The following letter was recently received by Glendale friends of Prof. A. D. Berry, who is working in the missionary fields in Japan:

"The fine packages of sweaters, socks and other clothing which Dr. Soper gathered and sent me, came all right—every bit of them—and all were so welcome and did so much good. I made good use of everything. First for our own students (the Theological students first of all) and then some of the families on the ground as well as others in need. How good it was of you all to send so much. The things from you folks were sent just the right way (parcel post), and they came straight to me without any delay or cost or breakage.

"Please extend to all who helped, my thanks, and the thanks of all the students and all the other folks. I wish you could have seen the gratitude of the students when they put those sweaters on.

"Sincerely,
"A. D. BERRY."

Popular Teacher In High School Marries

Word has been received at The Glendale Evening News office of the marriage of Miss Ida Wilshire, teacher of gymnasium at the Glendale Union High school, to a Mr. Anderson, at a ceremony taking place last week. Miss Wilshire's home was in Redlands and since she became identified with the faculty of the local high school she made her home here part of the time and also with friends in Pasadena.

It is rummored Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are now in Denver, and that she will not finish the term as teacher of gymnasium in the local high school.

CLUB'S OFFICERS ARE ANNOUNCED

Results of Election Held Yesterday Afternoon Are Made Known

she is known as the "wizard of finance."

However, her activities in the Tuesday Afternoon club have not been confined to finances entirely. She became a member of the club in 1918 and has served as curator of the Shakespeare department, a delegate to three district conventions, as first vice-president two years and organizer of the non-section group that is now the Home Economics department. She h s also been an active member of the Music, Parliamentary Law, Shakespeare, Arts and Crafts A, Literature and Home Economics departments, and has ably supported Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president.

During Mrs. Campbell's recent illness, Mrs. Montgomery presided with dignity over the club luncheons and meetings.

In her financial work for the club as chairman of ways and means Mrs. Montgomery has raised in two years $12,421.59. Of this amount $5300 was raised last year and up to April 10 this year $7,121.59.

Mrs. Montgomery has also taken a prominent part in community, civic and church affairs, giving freely of her time, talent and money in many worthy causes.

Aids Well Known

Sharing honors with her in her administration will be Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., another well-known California club woman, who is chairman of the Glendale Red Cross chapter.

Mrs. White is widely known throughout the state, not only in club affairs, but in the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher association, for which she is state chairman of child labor.

She is a student of parliamentary usage and this added to her wide experience in organization affairs will make her a valuable officer of the club.

By the recent change in the club by-laws the first vice-president will no longer have the responsibility of being chairman of ways and means, this duty falling on the second vice-president.

Club Leaders

Mrs. Homer D. Lockwood, the newly-elected second vice-president, has served during the past year as hospitality chairman, and has demonstrated her ability as a club leader.

Mrs. C. O. Kling, recording secretary, Mrs. H. C. Wilcox, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. A. R. Chappell, treasurer, are all capable women and will be devoted members of the club executive board.

Serving with Mrs. S. C. Packer and Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, newly-appointed directors, will be four directors whose terms of office are not yet completed. They are Mesdames H. E. Bartlett, Lillian Dow, E. B. Sutton and B. O. Holbrook.

Alleged Gambler Is Wanted In Utah, Claim

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—While ten motion picture employes were to face Police Judge Chambers today on gambling charges as the result of a sensational raid, police communicated with Salt Lake City authorities concerning Dick Allen, taken in the raid, who is said to be wanted in the Utah city on a felony charge.

Allen was identified through finger prints and the records showed the Utah authorities had been searching for him since May 21, 1921, for an asserted crime committed there.

One Injured as Cars Crash In Eagle Rock

W. A. Godschalk, 1715 East Wilson avenue, was slightly injured last night when a machine he was driving collided with another driven by Arthur Boyce, 1447 Colorado boulevard, Eagle Rock, at the intersection of Broadway and Howard street.

Godschalk was removed to the hospital where his injuries were dressed. He was later able to proceed home.

Auto Accessories Are Part of Thieves' Loot

The filling station at Lake and Western avenue, owned by Earl Welch, 611 East Broadway, was burglarized last night, according to a report he made to the police this morning. Tires, tubes and automobile accessories to the value of $150 were taken, he stated.

District of Columbia has more automobiles than 22 of the foreign countries combined.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Girls' Society

The Girls' Friendly Society of St. Mark's Episcopal church met in the Guild hall Monday night for a combined business and social evening, which proved to be one of the most enjoyable meetings of the season.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock with Mesdames Powers and Cattleman, hostesses.

An entertaining and varied program, which was arranged as a surprise by Miss Gladys Kattleman and members of the J. B. O. class of the Sunday school, of which she is teacher, was presented after the business meeting.

Musical numbers were piano solos, "Scarf Dance" played by Dorothy Kennedy; "Humoresque," by Doris Mulvihill, and duet on the piano, "Spanish Dance," by Dorothy Kennedy and Gladys Cattleman.

A monologue, "Getting Ready for the Dance," was given by Margaret Lou Cory. A playlet, "Day Dreams," was presented by the J. B. O. class. A reading, "Seein' Things at Night," by Master Maurice Fitzhugh, was a clever impersonation by Miss Gladys Cattleman.

A laughable burlesque, "The Wreck of the Hesperus," was given in costume. The characters were "The Skipper," Doris Mulvihill; "The Little Daughter," Harriett Mae Gaddies; "The Old Sailor," Dorothy Kennedy; "The Fisherman," Dorothy Mitchell.

Miss Grace Crampton, president of the society, was in charge of the business meeting. Plans were completed for a May dance to take place May 2, at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

Family Reunion

One of the most enjoyable events of the past week was the family reunion and dinner party given last Wednesday night by Dr. Margaret Morgan in celebration of the seventy-fourth birthday anniversary of her father, B. O. Morgan, of 500 Myrtle street.

Artistic arrangements of spring flowers were used in profusion in decorating the Morgan home for the affair. A beautifully decorated birthday cake formed the centerpiece for the dinner table.

Covers were laid for twenty-three. Those present were the honoree, B. O. Morgan, and his five daughters, Mrs. A. E. Rust of Cairo, Ill., Mrs. E. E. Martin and Mrs. A. E. Cryberman of Tujunga, Mrs. Frank Burt of San Mateo and Dr. Margaret Morgan of Glendale. Mr. Morgan's three sons and daughters-in-law also were present, Dr. and Mrs. Elgin Morgan of South Dakota, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. Shannon Morgan. The grandchildren present were Bernard Martin of Palm Springs, Evelyn Morgan and Buddy and Baby Mae Morgan, and Malcolm Burt of San Mateo. Other relatives present were Miss Nadine Fullenwider of Long Beach and Mrs. Teva Vine of Ocean Park.

After dinner the evening was devoted to a splendid radio program.

Honors Miss Cook

Miss Harriett Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Cook of 639 North Orange street, who will become the bride of Hal Weeks on June 3 at an elaborate wedding in the Glendale Presbyterian church, was the honoree at a delightful informal social affair and china shower given last Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Jack Jenkins at the home of Mrs. Brain, 428 Salem street.

Artistic arrangements of spring flowers were used in profusion, carrying out a pink and green color scheme.

During the afternoon an informal social time was enjoyed and an impromptu musical program presented. Later, Miss Cook was presented with a number of lovely gifts of china.

Later in the afternoon a dainty course of refreshments was served.

The guests included the honoree, Miss Harriett Cook, and the Misses Helen Beach, Pearl Pollock, Dorothy Haig, Emma Sebastian, Doris Roe, Odell Cunningham, Marie Clennin, and Mmes. Dan Bruce, Charles Wells, Robert Adams, C. A. Minter, Fred Wilson, all of Glendale, and M. P. Gleason of Los Angeles, and the hostess, Mrs. Jack Jenkins.

Business Women

The dinner and business session held last night by the members of the Glendale Business and Professional Women's club at 6:30 o'clock, in the Egyptian Village, proved a most enjoyable affair.

Dr. Jessie A. Russell, president, presided over the meeting, introducing Miss Edith Hagin, who has just returned from Japan, where she has spent several years in the missionary fields. Miss Hagin told in an interesting manner some of her experiences during the recent earthquake disaster. She had just arrived in Tokio and, on account of the earthquake, was marooned for three days at the railroad station without any baggage. She was unable to get to her destination, and was forced to remain there until some Americans at one of the mountain resorts could make their way to her and take her back with them.

She also told of how cool and comeptent the railroad men were during the confusion, helping to take thousands of the terrorized people to the country.

Miss Hagin taught in one of the girls' schools in Japan, and gave a brief outline of the work being accomplished there by the missionaries.

She expects to enter the University of California, Southern Branch, in the fall for advanced study, and does not plan to return to Japan for at least two years. She will make her home with her mother, Mrs. F. E. Hagin, 634 North Howard street.

Another feature of the program was the readings given by Mrs. Evelyn Pierce. She gave "Bill's in Trouble" and "The Soliloquy of the Bee."

A very short business session was held, with the president, Dr. Jessie A. Russell, in charge.

Italian Program

An enjoyable Italian program is being arranged by Mrs. Edwin Cleophas for the meeting Friday afternoon of the music department of the Tuesday Afternoon club. It will be an open meeting, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, and all club members and friends are invited to attend.

The program will include selections by Signor Salvatore Tomaso, composer and banjo and mandolin artist, accompanied by his daughter, Elaine Tomaso; vocal numbers by Miss Laura Lee, accompanied by Mrs. Roberts, and violin selections by Glen Hallik.

Mrs. Warren Roberts, curator, will direct a short business hour, and Mrs. John W. Cotton will servve as hostess at the tea hour.

ASKS GOVERNMENT SEND DICTIONARY

Postmaster Gets Orders on Shipments, But Stalls On Unusual Word

Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson of the Glendale post office wishes the department at Washington, D. C., would supply him with a dictionary, if they are going to "highbrow." Receipt of the following order from Postmaster General Harry S. New forced him to consult Webster:

"Cattle, sheep and other ruminants, and swine, must be disinfected by an inspector of the United States bureau of animal industry prior to shipment."

Captain Jackson scratched his head and consulted George Hallett, assistant postmaster.

"Search me," said Hallett.

They then consulted the dictionary and found the following: "Ruminant: an animal that chews the cud."

When the reporter left the post office, they were wondering if the classification included the gum-chewing variety of genus homo.

Start Lecture Series On Value of Fiction

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—A new literary atmosphere was added to Los Angeles last night when Miss Helen E. Haines, of the Los Angeles Public Library Educational department, began a series of ten lectures on current literature under the auspices of the University extension course bureau in the Junior Orpheum building.

Miss Haines will seek to direct interest toward the more worth while fiction and to acquaint readers with the joys and beauties of fiction and poetry. It is a new departure and the first lecture was well attended.

The publisher of The Glendale Evening News appreciates the interest shown in this newspaper by the chapter and welcomes suggestions for the betterment of Glendale's own paper.

Campbells May Delay Trip to Irish Home

That Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell are seriously considering postponing their contemplated trip abroad and to their native home in Ireland, was made known yesterday by Mrs. Campbell at the Tuesday Afternoon club meeting.

Their son, Daniel, Jr., is to graduate this year from Leland Stanford university, and it is their desire to attend the graduation exercises.

"The time to visit Ireland is in the beautiful months of May, June and July," Mrs. Campbell said, "and, since we haven't been back to our old home for twenty-four years, the charm of the return will be even greater if we postpone our trip for another twelve months.'

PREDICTS EARLY HALT OF PLAGUE

Foot and Mouth Disease to Be Eliminated Inside of Three Weeks, Claim

PETALUMA, Cal., April 23.—The optimistic prediction that the hoof and mouth disease will be stamped out within the next two or three weeks in California was made in an address here last night by Governor Friend W. Richardson.

He stated that close co-operation of the state and federal authorities and the action of the national government in assuming full charge of the situation led him to believe that control of the scourge was in sight.

The governor revealed that to date $2,000,000 has been spent in the fight against the disease, one-half of which has been borne by California and the other half by the federal government.

Fines Are Assessed For Reckless Driving

HOME-COMING AT HIGH SCHOOL TO BE GREAT EVENT

Committees Now at Work Arranging Program for Friday, May 23

"Home-coming Day," an annual event that is eagerly anticipated by graduates of many institutions throughout the country, is to be inaugurated at Glendale Union High school this year, through the efforts of the representatives of the classes that have graduated from the local school.

Friday, May 23, has been selected as the date, and if the first "home-coming" is the success that it promises to be, an annual gathering will result. Invitations will be extended to every one who has ever attended Glendale Union High school to be present on that day.

Varied Program

An elaborate program is being arranged and it will be the first opportunity that many of the graduates will have had of inspecting the new school on East Broadway.

In the afternoon there will be a party for the children of former students, a reception and a tea for the ladies. A vaudeville show is being arranged for the evening, to be put on by the graduates. This will be followed by a social hour.

Committee Heads

The plans are being perfected by the teachers who are graduates of the school, with Miss Iva Hunter as general chairman. The following are acting as chairman of the various committees: Miss Dorothy Gilson, evening entertainment; Mrs. Carol Kolts, afternoon entertainment; Miss Jane Snyder and Miss Mildred Sawyer, invitations; Miss Frances Jackson, publicity.

Mrs. Helen Hume Floyd Moyse, vice-principal has given the various committees splendid co-operation and plans are being made to care for a large crowd.

Fireman Drops Dead At Comrade's Funeral

CHICAGO, April 23.—Lieutenant Claus Clausen, honorary pallbearer at the funeral of Fireman Jeremiah O'Callahan, one of the victims of the fire which took nine lives at Curran hall, Saturday, dropped dead as the casket of his former comrade was being carried into St. Lawrence church.

Lieutenant Clausen was walking behind the casket and sank in a heap on the steps as the first pall-bearers crossed the threshold of the church door. The veteran had been a member of the department for thirty years and was the only member of truck company No. 1 to return alive from the stockyards fire in 1910.

Graham Crackers

By F. A. GRAHAM

About the only way we can make anything "unusual" out of it is to refrain from telling our eastern friends that we had "perfect" weather for Easter.

From the reports of deaths due to autos it wouldn't do some drivers a bit of harm if the judge inoculated them with the hoof-ing disease.

"WORLD FLIERS LEAVE CHIGNIK." IF IT WAS AS BAD AS IT SOUNDS, WHO WILL BLAME THEM?

There is no pleasing some girls. They got the blues when the boys went away and now that the fleet is back in Los Angeles harbor they have them again, but they don't seem to be so gloomy about it.

NATIVES OF OSKALOOSA GET A GREAT KICK OUT OF SUCH NAMES AS TUJUNGA.

A newspaper says that 25,000 Los Angeles children were given an Easter treat and served with more ice cream than they could eat. It is hard to believe there is that much ice cream in the whole world, let alone Los Angeles.

One artist avoided the burden of paying a model salary by marrying her, thus giving wives in general new ammunition for an old charge. Six days later she tried suicide, which is the only way a wife can resign her job if she can't get the goods on her husband.

Autoists who selfishly or thoughtlessly tried to disregard the hoof and mouth quarantine regulations were very much put out with the treatment they received, but they would be still more plagued if they were allowed to have their way.

Webb Ruling Affects Soldiers' Exemption

SACRAMENTO, April 23.—A soldier who enlisted after Nov. 11, 1918, is not entitled to claim exemption from taxation on the ground that he was a veteran of the world war, Attorney-General U. S. Webb has ruled.

The opinion was given in response to a question by District Attorney W. E. Wright of Nevada county, who explained that a "party who enlisted in June, 1919, claims exemption from taxation by reason of being a soldier during the time of war. Is he entitled to it?

Webb held that while the treaty of peace had not been signed in June, 1919, the war was over when the armistice was declared November 11, 1918, and that only service prior to that date with the armed forces of the United States can entitle an applicant to claim tax exemption by virtue of service in the world war.

SPEND HUGE SUM IN REPRODUCING PARIS FOR FILM

Palace, Chateau, Streets of French Capital Shown in 'Scaramouche'

The biggest production item in the stupendous Rex Ingram picture "Scaramouche" (pronounced Scare-a-mooch), which opens at the Glendale Theatre Sunday, April 27, was the building of sets representing the palace of the Tuileries, an old chateau and city streets of the France of 1789. Kennels, pens, stables and cages had to be built for dogs, pigeons, ducks, cats, oxen, horses, canaries, peacocks and other birds and animals. Carriages and coaches had to be reconstructed with perfect historical accuracy. Costumes had to be made for the 10,000 persons who appeared in the mob scenes. There were uniforms for the soldiery, and outfits of especial magnificence for players representing the nobility.

Over 11,000 "Extras"

The total number of persons involved in some capacity in the production reached the figure of approximately 11,200. Ten thousand of these made up the mob that rushed through Paris when the Revolution broke. Of those with definite other places in the picture's making were thirty principal players, thirty-four assistant directors, eight research experts, twenty-two cameramen with their assistants, twenty-three property men, sixty-five electricians, fifty-five costumers, fifty-four wig makers, eleven architects, 630 carpenters, seventy-five plasterers, eighty-eight painters and scenic artists and forty-eight chauffeurs and teamsters.

On the sixty-acre location where the duplicates of streets in Paris, Gavrillac and Rennes were constructed, 412 tons of cobblestones were used for paving, besides 610 tons of gravel and sand. For the buildings 762,264 feet of lumber was necessary. Also 340 tons of plaster, 4000 pounds of nails, and 200 tons of casting plaster.

"Scaramouche" is made from the Rafael Sabatini novel of that name, one of the most popular books published in a decade. It is released through the Metro Pictures corporation.

Fresno Police Join in Hunt for Missing Man

FRESNO, April 23.—Fresno police have joined in the statewide search for Albert V. Prewitt, formerly of this city, who left his home at 4052 South Vermont avenue, Los Angeles, April 12, with $100 in cash, and has not been heard of since. The Fresno officers were requested to seek the man here in a communication received from Mrs. Prewitt. The woman stated that she believed he may have come to Fresno and was waylaid on the way or near here.

C. C. Board Postpones Regular Weekly Meet

The regular weekly board meeting of the directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce was canceled last night, as most of the members were guests at the Kiwanis Leap Year party that was held at the Oakmont Country club.

The Business Depression

"Business is certainly mighty poor,"
Groans Jones who runs the second-hand store,
Where the loafers' club—a dozen or more—
Meet daily in rain or shine.

Feet elevated and sidewalk in view,
They find in each passer a topic that's new,
The neighborhood gossip they daily review,
And settle the world's affairs.

"When customers are so very few,
And take a busy man's time up too,
What is a good business man to do?"
Asks Jones with an injured air.

"A man came into the store today,
He owed me a bill he wished to pay,
But we were discussing the very best way
To fix German reparations.

"Not recalling just what he bought,
(My mind where many battles were fought),
He seemed to look relieved, I thought,
When I told him to call again.

"A woman with quite a listless air
Came in and asked for granite-ware.
I gave her a frozen and haughty stare,
For I knew she wouldn't buy.

"My first impression proved to be right,
For when she saw I wouldn't bite,
She drew herself to her full height,
And turned and left the store.

"Another came in to look at chairs,
And in respect to her gray hairs,
I showed her all I had downstairs,
Drawing them out in a row.

"She was partial to one upholstered in red,
'But it's so bright,' she shook her head.
"Take it or leave it, ma'am," I said.
And she never bought the chair.

"Wishing a double bed to exchange,
A man came to look at a kitchen range,
But his actions seemed so very strange,
I said I had none for sale.

"When customers are so very few,
And take a busy man's time up too,
What is a good business man to do?"
Asks Jones with an injured air.

Now Jones and the things he has for sale,
Are neither of nor in Glendale.
For then there would be a different tale
About the business depression.

MUSICAL ABILITY WINS POPULARITY

Freeman Quartet In Demand At Social Functions In Southland

The talented work done by the Virginia Freeman quartet has brought the members, Gretna Cordary, Pearl Adair, Marjorie Yarick and Gladys White, wide recognition and presented them at numerous affairs of late.

This group, with the addition of Miss Julia Robinson, talented daughter of Mayor Spencer Robinson, makes up a quintet, which is also much in demand.

The quintet appeared during the recent club convention in Glendale, and are to appear again in May at the Glendale theatre.

At Kiwanis Dinner

The quartet appeared last night at the Kiwanis dinner at the Oakmont Country club, and are to sing Friday night at the Women's club in San Bernardino.

Miss Gladys White was one of the Easter singers last Sunday at the Congregational church, and has received many compliments on her work.

URGES VETERANS TO FILE CLAIMS

Bureau Official Explains the Compensation Clauses in War Risk Act

E. E. McWain, adjutant of Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, has received a communication from K. J. Scudder, manager of the Los Angeles sub-district of the United States Veterans' Bureau, which contains information of vital importance to ex-service men who fought in the World War.

He requests that the adjutant of the local post call the attention of the Legionnaires to section 309 of the War Risk act, which provides that "no compensation shall be payable unless a claim therefor be filed, in case of disability, within five years after date of discharge from service."

Explains Option

In plain language, this means, Mr. Scudder states, that those who were discharged between April 6, 1917, and October 12, 1917, have the option either to apply to the Pension Bureau or to the Veterans' Bureau, if they apply within the five years prescribed by law. The exception to this is where a man has a "certificate of injury," which must have been obtained before August 9, 1922. He further states that compensation is not payable to men enlisting after February 9, 1922.

These conditions relate also to application for compensation because of deaths connected with the service. Parents who are not receiving compensation must show dependency within five years after the death of the person on account of whose service claim is made.

Want Germany to Pay French Debt to U. S.

PARIS, April 23.—Suggestion that Germany be compelled to pay France's war debt to the United States was among three "possibilities" suggested by the semi-official newspaper Temps.

For several days this influential newspaper has been agitating the war debt question in connection with a reparations settlement. It indicates that the French government is anxious to have the debt issue brought up if an international conference is held to discuss reparations upon the basis of the Dawes plan.

Liquor Disappeared, Attorney Testifies

WASHINGTON, April 23.—One hundred cases of seized whiskey disappeared from the department of justice in 1921, Walter W. Grimes, a department attorney testified before the Wheeler-Brookhart committee. The whiskey had been seized from Alzono Bunch, a Washington liquor dealer, Grimes said.

GIVE REPORTS ON CLUB'S FINANCES, OTHER ACTIVITIES

Women Hear Statements on Work of Past Months; Name Delegates

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff.

In the rush of activities filling the close of the club year, Tuesday Afternoon Club women yesterday paused to look back on accomplishments during preceding months, devoting the meeting to routine business and announcements and reports from the president, Mrs. Daniel Campbell; Mrs. Mabel V. Hunter, recording secretary; Mrs. M. E. Plasterer, treasurer, and from curators or representatives of the various departments.

The foundation upon which every organization rests, securely or otherwise, is the financial management; consequently, the feature report given to the club women yesterday was that from Mrs. M. E. Plasterer.

Presents Figures

In her report was summed up the success of the co-operation and service of every member of the club, reflected in the following figures:

Cash on hand June 30, 1923, $4,593.43; receipts for the year, $21,501.50; disbursements, $17,921.11; balance, $8,172.82, which, with the payment of $5,000 on the principal of the debt of $50,000 to L. C. Brand, the payment of $750 interest, and final payment of $798 in taxes, leaves a final balance of $1,624.44.

This report was most gratifying to the club women, for it showed the financial management had harmonized with the budget of $26,000 outlined for the year.

Names Delegates

Next in importance yesterday to Mrs. Plasterer's report was the announcement by Mrs. Campbell of the delegates who will represent the club at the biennial of the General Federation, June 3 to 13 in Los Angeles. The delegates are Mesdames H. E. Bartlett, Frank C. Ayars, C. W. Houston, A. A. Barton, William Hunter, B. O. Holbrook, M. E. Plasterer, Daniel Campbell and Miss Eva Daniels.

Curators or representatives reporting yesterday were Mrs. H. A. McPherson, of arts and crafts; Mrs. O. E. Von Oven, for Mrs. H. W. Yarick of arts and crafts; Miss Ida D. Myers, of American citizenship and legislation; Mrs. Warren Roberts, music; Mrs. C. G. Putnam, maids and young matrons; Mrs. H. D. Fortier, for Mrs. C. H. Temple, Bible; Mrs. Max Lynn Green, drama; Mrs. Roy Ballagh, fine arts; Mrs. H. C. Wilcox, literature; Mrs. Allen Fairchild, home economics; Mrs. C. A. Brandstater, parliamentary law; Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, for Mrs. Walter Jones, Shakespeare;

WORK WILL START

EAGLE ROCK, April 23.—July 1 will see the first shovel full of dirt dug for this community's sewer system, according to promises made by Los Angeles city officials.

ROAD PLANS O. K'D

SAN PEDRO, April 23.—Los Angeles harbor boosters here are overjoyed at the approval by the board of supervisors of the Broadway-to-the-Sea boulevard beautiful, plans for which are now passing through the necessary legal hands.

RECALL LOOMS

VENICE, April 23.—Recall of hold-over members of the city board of trustees is threatened as the result of the recent election in which G. Gordon Parkhurst, former bay district newsboy, was elected mayor. Fred Church and William A. Lutz are the two against whom public sentiment is said to be crystallizing. It is an old row never ended at the Venice city hall.

KILL 1000 HOGS

SAN BERNARDINO, April 23.—One thousand head of hogs were killed at a ranch in the Declez district, south of here. Feed for the hogs had been shipped from Los Angeles, it is said.

KU KLUX WEDDING

HUNTINGTON PARK, April 23.—California klansmen officially witnessed the first wedding within their order when Miss Lorain Buckley, aged 16, married Raymond Farrington, aged 23. All attendants, including the Rev. W. R. Workman of Hynes, were attired in the Klan regalia.

WILL BACK BONDS

HOLLYWOOD, April 23.—Support was pledged the city and county bond issues and the proposed new Los Angeles charter by the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce in session here.

FOIL HOLD-UP

HOLLYWOOD, April 23.—Detective work on the part of a civic committee is believed to have averted a hold-up following the collection of $3000 at a dance in the Hollywood Women's clubhouse. Two boys are being held by the police as suspects. They are members of prominent families. They were trapped in a car by a decoy. In their possession was a Luger pistol and a trick auto license device.

BOOTLEG CHARGE

PASADENA, April 23.—Three men were arrested here for the alleged selling of bootleg on a $10,000 a week scale, with a side line of narcotics. The bulk of their selling was done from an expensive automobile, the liquor being served in gold-lined cups. It is said by the agent in charge of the case, D. J. O'Leary, that the entire contraband was shipped from San Francisco.

CHANGE DATE OF BIG PARADE FOR GLENDALE'S BOYS

Annual Event Takes Place May 16 Under Auspices of Rotary Club

The third annual boys' parade, sponsored by the Glendale Rotary Club, has been set ahead to Friday, May 16, owing to conflict with other civic activities, reports Arthur H. Dibbern, chairman of the boys' work committee of the club.

The parade will aim to include every boy in Glendale and to each boy who marches will be given a free ticket entitling him to a seat at the special ball game being arranged for Saturday, March 17, at the Glendale baseball park by Manager Frank Kerwin of the local White Sox. This game will be semi-professional in character and a "crackerjack," Mr. Dibbern assures the boys.

Numerous Prizes

In addition to the free baseball tickets, there will be numerous prizes awarded the winners in the various divisions in the parade. These prizes will be on display for some time previous to the parade in the windows of local merchants and will be awarded at the ball game on Saturday afternoon.

The prize committee consists of Daniel Kelty, Jr., and J. I. Wernette.

Wait Court Decision On Deficiency Bill

SACRAMENTO, April 23.—Though a majority of the members of the state legislature have signified their intention to approve a deficiency bill for $2,000,000 to recompense owners of stock slaughtered to prevent the spread of the hoof and mouth epidemic, attorneys are anxiously awaiting the decision of the supreme court in the mandamus action brought by the state fish and game commission to force State Controller Ray L. Riley to approve claims on a similar deficiency appropriation created for the department by Governor Richardson.

If the decision is favorable, it is felt the stock owners are guaranteed recompense. Doubt exists meantime as to the validity of the governor's action in creating a deficiency bill to avoid summoning the legislature into extraordinary session.

The contention of Controller Riley in the suit now before the supreme court is that the governor can not create a deficiency appropriation. It is argued that law-making powers are vested solely in the legislature and that it requires legislation to prove deficiency appropriations.

Daily Greeting To News Readers

God keep us through the common days!
The level stretches, white with dust—
When thought is tired, and hands upraise
Their burdens feebly—since we must—
In days of slowly fretting care,
Then most we need the strength of prayer.
—Margaret Sangster.

IDEAS BRING DOLLARS

The world today—so far as man has had a hand in building it—is a structure composed of many ideas. Every invention, every building, every highway—at one time—was merely an idea, or a group of ideas. Los Angeles is a product of ideas. Glendale is a result of ideas. And what is more important, the Glendale of the future exists now—to a large extent—in the minds of the builders.

Here and there you meet a man with vision, and in his mind's eye he sees a city of 100,000 persons, or 200,000, or more. Possibly he is too optimistic. Possibly all of his ideas will not be used as timbers in the structure. But there will be a place for most of them.

Other men, creating a city in their thoughts, will work shoulder to shoulder with him. They will compare mental blue prints. They will exchange mental samples of the material to be used. They will meet and discuss various details. Then, agreeing upon a general plan, these builders will rush the work to completion. No, not to completion, for a city never reaches that stage. But it will go up and up, one story after another, until it becomes a skyscraper towering to the clouds. In due time other builders will proceed with the work.

Fortunate is the man who can see this, for with "sight" will come joy in being one of the builders, and with vision will come a desire to invest for financial gain.

Right now many are laying the foundation for happiness and wealth in the fastest growing city in the United States. Ideas bring dollars. Why not put YOUR ideas to work, that you may build for yourself the home and the bank account which so far have existed only in your imagination. Your ideas will bring you nothing if you keep them cooped up. Your dollars will bring you little unless you put them to work. But if you will harness up your ideas with a little cash, you will be driving the best team you ever held reins over. Even a little "horse sense" should open everyone's eyes to Glendale's future.

VALUE OF TEAM WORK

Nowhere is the value of team work more evident than in a drive. Whether it be a $50,000 advertising fund drive to sell Glendale to America, as that under way at the present time; or a Liberty Bond drive, such as we all remember; a charity, relief or commercial drive—team work in any case plays the dominant part, if the campaign is to be a success.

We all know drives that have succeeded overwhelmingly, and we know why. Somewhere, back of them, there was splendid coordination of every working unit, down to the veriest cog in the machine. An automobile would become a sorry mechanism if the carburetor should suddenly decide it would function where and when it chose, and the ignition system could go to blazes! Both would go there, and quickly.

The beauty of machinery, the fascination of mills and factories, is in the perfect team work displayed by every unit, whether human, animal or metal. The delight over a smooth-running engine is universal. The whole universe is built along orderly lines and man himself is at his best when functioning in unity with his fellow men.

The success of such a drive as the $50,000 advertising fund campaign now under way in Glendale depends primarily upon the coordination of the four majors, forty captains and 160 team workers—and what a fine phrase that "team workers" is! It exactly and briefly tells the whole story. Let us all be team workers for a Glendale of 100,000 population.

BOY, PAGE MR. HATFIELD!

The news columns of The Glendale Evening News yesterday carried a story to the effect that Charles M. Hatfield, of Glendale, famed as a "rain maker," says that it has been proven rain is the greatest preventative of the hoof and mouth disease. Mr. Hatfield "points with pride" to his recent "rain-making" record in Fresno county, and at the same time calls attention to the fact that there is no cattle plague in the territory where he was performing his miracle. In fact, he says, there is practically no hoof and mouth disease in any territory where there has been considerable moisture.

Perhaps Mr. Hatfield had better flirt with the rain clouds in order to drown out the plague. If he is compelled to wait until July, he may find the miracle difficult to bring about. Seriously, Mr. Hatfield's record shows he is either a good guesser or really has "the goods" to produce moisture out of a clear sky. Incidentally, his little stunt up Fresno way got a whole lot of advertising for Glendale.

COOLIDGE'S KEYNOTE SPEECH

The Glendale Evening News yesterday published in full the address made by President Coolidge to an audience of newspaper publishers in New York, at an annual gathering of members of a great news gathering organization. The address may be considered as Coolidge's keynote speech of the presidential campaign, in view of the fact that for the first time since he entered the White House he dealt extensively with what he conceived to be the role the nation should play in world affairs.

A careful reading of the address will show that it is made of safe and sane declarations; that it was made by a man who has a mind of his own, and one fully qualified to be at the head of this government. The Glendale Evening News, in connection with the publication of the president's message yesterday, gave a number of "high lights" thereon. They show a right-thinking man. The country will be safe with Coolidge. Also, Coolidge is safe for the country. His address was a masterpiece of clear, clean thinking. It is, indeed, fortunate that a man of his type is available for the presidency.

THE POOR FISH!

"Hundreds of dead fish were found in the East river after New York police had emptied several thousand bottles of liquor there. Evidently the poor fish didn't know any better than to drink the bootleg stuff," says The Hollywood Citizen. Quite true. And thousands of other "poor fish" not in the sea or river also do not know any better than to drink the stuff!

Mothers of the long ago plied their knitting needles each evening as the cricket on the hearth tuned up. Today mother wrestles with Mah Jongg problems while listening to the latest jazz, as it comes fox-trotting in over the radio. Yes, Obadiah, times do change.

Until two citizens, living as neighbors, can decide upon that important question—"Should roosters be allowed within the city limits?"—there seems little likelihood of universal peace and the end of war.

Judge Kenyon

By DR. FRANK CRANE

When President Coolidge asked Judge W. S. Kenyon of Iowa to take the position of Secretary of the Navy, made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Denby, the judge replied in a letter that is wholesome food for public consumption.

I would especially commend it to the attention of all young men, and old ones, too, for that matter, likewise women, who have a strong desire to go up and to get on.

The point that it brings out is that a shrewd and level-headed person will not jump at the first chance he gets to become prominent, but will carefully examine himself and see if he is fitted to the responsibilities of the offered post.

The Scriptures somewhere say that no man would build a house and no king would go to war without first sitting down and counting the cost.

There are some men who have stayed down because they were too cautious; and there are other men who have fallen down because they were not cautious enough.

In his statement, declining the position as Secretary of the Navy, Judge Kenyon used these words:

"A man in a judicial position acquires the habit of looking at all sides of a question before arriving at a conclusion. I am appreciative of the honor conferred and confidence shown by the President of the United States in tendering me the position of Secretary of the Navy. I cannot, however, escape the conclusion that I do not possess the essential qualifications or training for the office. Hence it seems very clear that I should go no further in its consideration."

It is due to the judge to take these words at their face value and to attribute no other motive to his action than that which he has so frankly given.

And a proper sermon we might preach from this text is that it is a wise man who knows, first, what he wants to do; second, what he is fitted for; and, third, his limitations.

There are not a few people in the world who are doing what they intensely dislike. One of the commonest faults the average man has is that he does not know what he wants.

And many a one has been forced by fate into a kind of success that is no success at all because the work involved in it is not of a kind to give him free and joyous self expression.

If a man loves farming, outdoor life, the handling of stock and the like, he will be happier as a farmer, if he only clears a thousand dollars a year, than he would be sitting in a bank and clearing a hundred thousand a year.

If, therefore, you do not want to be a round peg in a square hole, find out, first of all, what you want.

Secondly, any honor or preferment, for which one is not fitted by training and by temperament, is most likely to be disappointing in the end.

For instance, I make a living by writing. I do not make so much money as some bank presidents, pugilists and movie stars; but I wouldn't be a member of any of these three professions, if I had to work at it all my life, for all the money in the Bank of England.

I would as soon marry a woman I did not like as take up a life calling I did not like.

Third, Judge Kenyon appeared to know his limitations. He felt that he was not adapted to an administrative office.

And if every factory superintendent, minister of the Gospel, school teacher, commanding general, political office holder and other person in a place of authority, whose ability is not at all commensurate with the duties of his office, were to resign and take on a job he could do well, the comfort and efficiency of the human race would be considerably improved.

IT'S NOT ALL CHOICE

(From The Fresno Republican)

A monkey almost strangled Cromwell to death when he was a baby in the cradle. For a few moments, until he was discovered and driven away, that ape held the destiny of nations in his hairy paws. How do you explain it? Luck? A matter of chance?

Important events of the world and our own lives often hinge on such petty little details that an observer is baffled to explain.

Napoleon might have won Waterloo if a rain had not mired his artillery.

Mohammed, pursued by enemies, hid in a cave in Mount Shur. A spider promptly spun a web across the cave's entrance. Seeing the web, the pursuers reasoned that no one could have entered without breaking the silken threads. They passed on. Mohammed escaped. That spider determined the religious belief of millions of people later. The same cave-spiderweb story, by the way, is told about other historical characters—borrowed from Mohammed.

If Cleopatra's nose had been shorter, the condition of the world would have been different. So wrote Pascal in his epigrams. Her beauty made her one of the most powerful women that ever lived.

A small boy in church, watching a chandelier swaying back and forth, conceived the idea of the pendulum.

Luther might have been a lawyer if a rainstorm had not prevented him from keeping an appointment with a friend.

Giotto, one of the early Florentine painters, might have continued a shepherd boy if a sheep drawn by him on a stone had not happened to attract the attention of a great artist, Cimabue, who fired Giotto with ambition.

Nearly everybody believes in luck, combined with work. Ambition is kept alive and nurtured by hope. And hope is lured on by a belief that time and effort will bring opportunity and fortune.

But most of us cannot accept chance as a satisfactory explanation of such crucial incidents as Baby Cromwell escaping death at a monkey's hands. We are confident that the guiding hand of Providence is back of it all.

'BLOC' DEVELOPMENT

(From Pasadena Star-News)

In studying Congress and analyzing the causes of its inertia it were well to take account of the "bloc" and its logical fruits. A great deal of the delay in legislation at Washington may be laid at the door of "blocs." This does not necessarily demonstrate that the "bloc" must have a conscience in public service—that it must realize its responsibility toward the public.

Congress must function with reasonable expeditiousness, or its usefulness is largely nullified. All elements and groups in Congress should be imbued with a sense of obligation to the public to proceed with eye single to the dispatch of public business and to the proper and useful serving of the people.

Little Studies —of— Human Nature

SEEKING PUBLICITY

The press agent and the advertising man are products of modern times, but Human Nature has always wanted publicity, favorable if possible, but unfavorable rather than not at all. People have always sought the limelight for themselves or for others in whom they are interested, or for some cause or movement.

This does not mean that everyone is trying to "get into the newspapers," but the same instinct that impels a screen star to hire a press agent causes a mother to tell her neighbor how well little Mabel is doing with her piano or dancing lessons and what the teacher said about her. The motive is not the same, of course, for the former seeks advertising that will help him in his profession; the latter is only displaying mother love, but they both want the world to know. It is Human Nature to want to tell someone the moment good fortune has befallen us. It is Human Nature to seek out someone who will listen.

We may deny it, but we all like to see our names in print. There is something fascinating about cold type and printer's ink. No matter how often we are mentioned or how unimportant the thing that is printed about us, there it is for other people to read. And that instinct within us that pleads that we may be seen and heard and known is gratified. Novelty has nothing to do with this. Long-continued familiarity with printer's ink serves only to feed this instinct. Perhaps this is so because the individual through experience, learns the value of publicity. But the little feeling of importance and gratified pride is there just the same. Some are ashamed of this trait, thinking it is the outgrowth of vanity, but it is just Human Nature.

It is right that we should want to be known favorably, that we about our friends and our pet should wish to tell the world projects. Human Nature is companionable and communicative. Our little world is made up of many individuals and it is natural and right to desire to be known among them.

Much might be said, but better left unsaid, of those who prefer unfavorable publicity to none at all, and of those who scheme to get free publicity where it should be paid for.

Before the days of the printing press, about the only way to advertise was by word of mouth. Now we have the printed page, the platform, the telephone, the telegraph and the radio, the railroad, the automobile and the airplane through which to gratify the desire of old Human Nature to know and be known.

A Thought That Came Today

By HARVEY E. WESTGATE of Glendale

STYLES IN FOOD

Food styles now are changing,
They're changing every day,
And father says he reckons
We will soon be eating hay;
Pa side-steps grated carrots,
And of spinach he'll have none,
But the women folks devour them,
And Pa buys them by the ton.

Mother's rather fleshy,
A little over weight,
She shies at cake and biscuits,
And starchy things, of late;
She hasn't lost her hunger,
And she is hale and strong,
But she never eats a waffle
And I know there's something wrong.

Sister takes a biscuit
But she draws the line at meat,
And she turns down fish and lobster
And the things she used to eat;
She isn't pale and sickly
For she dances right along,
But she never eats a bonbon
And I know there's something wrong.

Father smiles serenely
As he carves a juicy steak,
Or reaches for a biscuit,
Or a second piece of cake;
He eats a stack of waffles
When they sound the breakfast gong,
And imbibes three cups of coffee,
So I know he's going strong.

I blame the diet expert
For the change that came to pass,
But he quotes his facts and figures
And the women fall, alas;
He talks about complexions
And the fat that they can lose,
And they eat his raw alfalfa,
And his elderberry stews.

ARIZONA CLAMPS BAN ON TRAFFIC

Imperial County's Action in Praising Officers Is Cause for Defi

YUMA, Ariz., April 23.—Arizona state hoof and mouth disease quarantine officers have laid down the defi to the County Board of Supervisors of Imperial county, California, by closing the Bard section and Yuma Indian reservation, which they had contemplated opening for automobile travel, when it was learned that the Imperial supervisors had passed a resolution commending the action of their sheriff and district attorney in getting the road opened.

"The quarantine blockade along the Arizona state line is as tight as ever," Dr. Edward Stam, state quarantine officer, declared here. "We had planned to open the Bard section and Yuma Indian reservation but, following the action of the Imperial County Board of Supervisors in heartily approving the action of Sheriff C. L. Gillett and District Attorney E. R. Uply in getting the roads open for travel, we have closed them."

Conflict Expected

El CENTRO, Cal., April 23.—Imperial county officials were expected to "fight back" following the action of Arizona hoof and mouth disease quarantine officers at Yuma in closing the Yuma Indian reservation and the Bard section in defiance of the Board of Supervisors here in commending their district attorney and sheriff for getting the roads opened.

Governor Hunt of Arizona, to whom a copy of the commendation was sent by telegraph, replied there has been no modification of the quarantine blockade along the state line or on California stock and other products.

The governor also advised that at a meeting of Arizona health and industrial representatives, resolutions embracing the issuance of a proclamation which would prohibit any railroad train passengers from entering the state without a health certificate and the not allow them to leave the train at any point within the state, were passed. Governor Hunt is expected to issue this proclamation today, it was stated here.

Tiger Tank Stars to Open Season Thursday

Occidental college will open the swimming season tomorrow afternoon when they meet Franklin High at the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. There are about fifteen men out for the varsity team. The freshmen are eligible for the swimming squad and some good material is to be found among the frosh. Parmenter, Ebers and Jacobson are the only lettermen back this season.

In Thursday's meet with the Kiteflyers, Oxy will enter Hall, Raymond, Strayer and Parmenter in the relay; Strayer, Parmenter, mond, Wilshire, in the 220; Wil-Hall in the 50; Hall and Parmenter in the 100-yard dash; Rayshire and Strayer in the 440; Raymond in the breast stroke; Parmenter and Strayer in the 50-yard back stroke; Jacobson, Raymond and Subke in the plunge.

OFFERS TO CURE CATTLE SCOURGE

Tailor Asks Opportunity to Prove Efficacy of His Method on Stock

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—Claiming to have a cure by which, he declares, he combatted successfully during two successive epidemics of the prevalent hoof and mouth disease, Joseph Schonberg, a local tailor, today asked city officials for the opportunity to demonstrate the efficiency of his method.

In 1881 and 1890, Schonberg says, the disease broke out in a flock of 800 sheep and a herd of 400 cattle on his father's ranch. By the application of a salve on the sores and an operation in the interior of the mouth of the animals, the entire herd was saved, he claims.

The idea that the disease is carried by germs is believed false by Schonberg, who says the animals transmit it to each other while drinking water together.

Schonberg asks only that he be paid what he would earn at his work, if he is given an opportunity to attempt cure of the diseased animals.

New Salesmanship Class at Night School

In response to the many repeated requests that have come for a continuation of the class in salesmanship in the Glendale Night school a new class will be started tonight at 8 o'clock in the Harvard High school. The class will take up the fundamental principles underlying the psychology of salesmanship and make a practical application of them to the various phases of salesmanship. Any residents of Glendale may attend these classes as they are open to the public without examination or cost. Enrollment may be made at any time at the Harvard High school.

Police Seek Motive In Veteran's Murder

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Police are unable to ascribe any motive for the murder of Ernest M. Bagwell, overseas veteran, found strangled in a lodging house here. He had been bound hand and foot and is believed to have been murdered by two mysterious men seen leaving his room shortly before his bound body was found.

THE STORY

DR. RALPH LESLIE, at his graduation from medical school, finds that he is penniless, his only possessions being a dress suit, a box of obsolete medical instruments inherited from a grandfather doctor, and an incipient case of typhoid fever. During his convalescence he becomes interested in the river shipping visible from his hospital window and decides to go to sea as a sailor to regain his strength. His classmate, McWhirter, working in a drug store until his hospital appointment is ready, has been fitting out the drug room of the yacht Ella, which lies at anchor in view of Leslie's window, and he gets Leslie a letter to the captain. Through the intervention of the owner's sister-in-law he is taken on as a sort of deck steward.

III—I UNCLENCH MY HANDS

From the first the captain disclaimed responsibility for me. I was housed in the forecastle and ate with the men. There, however, my connection with the crew and the navigation of the ship ended. Perhaps it was as well, although I resented it at first. I was weaker than I had thought, and dizzy at the mere thought of going aloft.

As a matter of fact. I found myself a sort of deck steward, given the responsibility of looking after the shuffle-board and other deck games, the steamer rugs, the cards—for they played bridge steadily—and answerable to George Williams, the colored butler, for the various liquors served on deck.

The work was easy and the situation rather amused me. After an effort or two to bully me, one of which resulted in my holding him over the rail until he turned gray with fright, Williams treated me as an equal, which was gratifying.

The weather was good, the food fair. I had no reason to repent my bargain. Of the sailing qualities of the Ella there could be no question. The crew, selected by Captain Richardson from the best men of the Turner line, knew their business, and, especially after the Williams incident, made me one of themselves. Barring the odor of formaldehyde in the forecastle, which drove me to sleeping on deck for a night or two, everything was going smoothly, at least on the surface.

Smoothly as far as the crew was concerned. I was not so sure about the after house.

As I have said, owing to the small size of the vessel and the fact that considerable of the space had been used for baths, there were, besides the family, only two guests, a Mrs. Johns, a divorcee, and a Mr. Vail. Mrs. Turner and Miss Lee shared the services of a maid, Karen Hansen, who, with a stewardess, Henrietta Sloane, occupied a double cabin. Vail had a small room, as had Turner, with a bath between which they used in common. Mrs. Turner's room was a large one, with its own bath, into which Elsa Lee's room also opened. Mrs. Johns had a room and bath.

I have said that things were not going smoothly in the after house. I felt it rather than saw it. The women rose late—except Miss Lee, who was frequently about when I washed the deck. They chatted and laughed together, read, played bridge when the men were so inclined, and now and then, when their attention was drawn to it, looked at the sea. They were always exquisitely and carefully dressed and I looked at them as I would at any other masterpieces of creative art, with nothing of covetousness in my admiration.

The men were violently opposed types—Turner, tall, heavy-shouldered, morose by habit, with a prominent nose and rapidly thinning hair, and with strong, pale-blue eyes, congested from hard drinking; Vail, shorter by three inches, dark, good-looking, with that dusky flush under the skin which shows good red blood, and as temperate as Turner was dissipated.

Vail was strong, too. After I had held Williams over the rail I turned to find him looking on, amused. And when the frightened darky had taken himself, muttering threats, to the galley, Vail came over to me and ran his hand down my arm.

"Where did you get it?" he asked.

"Oh, I've always had some muscle," I said. "I'm in bad shape now; just getting over fever."

"Fever, eh? I thought it was jail. Look here."

He threw out his biceps for me to feel. It was a ball of iron under my fingers. The man was as strong as an ox. He smiled at my surprise, and, after looking to see that no one was in sight, offered to mix me a highball from a decanter and siphon on a table.

I refused.

It was his turn to be surprised.

"I gave it up when I was in train—in the hospital," I corrected myself. "I find I don't miss it."

He eyed me with some curiosity over his glass and sauntered away, leaving me to my work of folding rugs. But when I had finished and was chalking the deck for shuffleboard he joined me again, dropping his voice, for the women had come up by that time and were breakfasting on the lee side of the after house.

"Have you any idea, Leslie, how much whisky there is on board?"

"Williams has considerable, I believe. I don't think there is any in the forward house. The captain is a teetotaler."

"I see. When these decanters go back, Williams takes charge of them?"

"Yes. He locks them away."

He dropped his voice still lower.

"Empty them, Leslie," he said. "Do you understand? Throw what is left overboard. And if you get a chance at Williams' key, pitch a dozen or two quarts overboard."

"And be put in irons!"

"Not necessarily. I think you understand me. I don't trust Williams. In a week we could have this boat fairly dry."

"There is a great deal of wine."

He scowled. "Damn Williams, anyhow! His instructions were—but never mind about that. Get rid of the whisky."

Turner coming up the companionway at that moment, Vail left me. I had understood him perfectly. It was common talk in the forecastle that Turner was drinking hard and that, in fact, the cruise had been arranged by his family in the hope that, away from his clubs, he would alter his habits—a fallacy, of course. Taken away from his customary daily round, given idle days on a summer sea and aided by Williams, the butler, he was drinking his head off.

Early as it was, he was somewhat the worse for it that morning. He made directly for me. It was the first time he had noticed me, although it was the third day out. He stood in front of me, his red eyes flaming, and although I am a tall man, he had an inch, perhaps, the advantage of me.

"What's this about Williams?" he demanded, furiously. "What do you mean by a thing like that?"

"He was bullying me. I didn't intend to drop him."

The ship was rolling gently; he made a pass at me with a magazine he carried and almost lost his balance. The women had risen and were watching from the corner of the after house. I caught him and steadied him until he could clutch a chair.

"You try any tricks like that again and you'll go overboard," he stormed. "Who are you, anyhow? Not one of our men?"

I saw the quick look between Vail and Mrs. Turner and saw her come forward. Mrs. Johns followed her, smiling.

"Marsh!" Mrs. Turner protested. "I told you about him—the man who had been ill."

"Oh, another of your friends!" he sneered, and looked from me to Vail with his ugly smile.

Vail went rather pale and threw up his head quickly. The next moment Mrs. Johns had saved the situation with an irrelevant remark, and the incident was over. They were playing bridge, not without dispute, but at least without insult. But I had had a glimpse beneath the surface of that luxurious cruise, one of many such in the next few days.

That was on Monday, the third day out. Up to that time Miss Lee had not noticed me, except once, when she found me scrubbing the deck, to comment on a corner that she thought might be cleaner, and another time in the evening, when she and Vail sat in chairs until late, when she had sent me below for a wrap. She looked past me rather than at me, gave me her orders quietly but briefly and did not even take the trouble to ignore me. And yet, once or twice, I had found her eyes fixed on me with a cool, half-amused expression, as if she found something in my struggles to carry trays as if I had been accustomed to them, or to handle a mop as a mop should be handled and not like a hockey stick—something infinitely entertaining and not a little absurd.

But that morning, after they had settled to bridge, she followed me to the rail, out of earshot, I straightened and took off my cap, and she stood looking at me, unsmiling.

"Unclench your hands!" she said.

"I beg your pardon!" I straightened out my fingers, conscious for the first time of my clenched fists, and even opened and closed them once or twice to prove their relaxation.

"That's better. Now—won't you try to remember that I am responsible for your being here, and be careful?"

"Then take me away from here and put me with the crew. I am stronger now. Ask the captain to give me a man's work. This—this is a housemaid's occupation."

"We prefer to have you here," she said coldly and then, evidently repenting her manner: "We need a man here, Leslie. Better stay. Are you comfortable in the forecastle?"

"Yes, Miss Lee."

"And the food is all right?"

"The cook says I am eating two men's rations."

She turned to leave, smiling. It was the first time she had thrown even a fleeting smile my way, and it went to my head.

"And Williams? I am to submit to his insolence?"

"The next time," she said, "you are to drop him!"

But during the remainder of the day she neither spoke to me nor looked, as far as I could tell, in my direction. She flirted openly with Vail, rather, I thought, to the discomfort of Mrs. Johns, who had appropriated him to herself—sang to him in the cabin, and in the long hour before dinner, when the others were dressing, walked the deck with him, talking earnestly. They looked well together, and I believe he was in love with her. Poor Vail!

A big motor freight line settles THE OIL QUESTION—

The Consolidated Motor Freight Lines, Inc., of Oakland, Calif., has solved its lubrication problem — by standardizing on Zerolene.

Independent Tests Verify Claims

Subjecting the anti-western oil superstition to the test of actual comparison in service, this Company verified independently our claims that Zerolene will lubricate the modern automobile engine as well or better than any oil on the market, irrespective of price, and whether of eastern or western origin. Their letter states:

"During the past three or four years we have experimented with various brands of eastern and western lubricating oils, including Zerolene oil. The results of these tests have proved to our satisfaction that Zerolene lubricates our equipment with the greatest efficiency.

"Our recent decision to lubricate our trucks exclusively with Zerolene oils has resulted in the reduction to a minimum of mechanical difficulties which were due to faulty lubrication."

Less Carbon — Better Gasoline Mileage

Why pay tribute to a superstition? The use of Zerolene, of the proper body, will not only cut down your oil bill, but give you better continuous lubrication, and better lubrication means greater gasoline mileage, less carbon, lower upkeep costs, and a longer life for your car.

Insist on Zerolene, even if it does cost less.

BURBANK

CHILDREN STUDY GARDEN METHODS

Plant Vegetables, Flowers in Campaign to Add to City's Beauty

This is "Garden Week" in Burbank and the school children are being taught the robust art of husbandry. The Women's club is behind the activity with a special committee headed by Mrs. A. W. Reese, assisted by Mrs. C. B. Fischer and Mrs. George Rummel. It is their plan to enlist the aid of the schools and the business people and through them to reach every home in the city, to the end that every one may enjoy through the summer and autumn, appetizing vegetables and lovely flowers, and the benign influence of more attractive surroundings.

At the regular meeting of the Women's club held in the Thomas A. Edison building yesterday afternoon, every member brought seeds, plants and bulbs. There was an animated exchange of these articles. The regular club meeting followed.

It is expected that Burbank will presently "blossom as the rose" and the whole city become one vast hybrid vegetable-flower garden. All who have more seeds, plants and bulbs than they need are urged to divide them with someone else.

Colburn Resigns

President R. W. Colburn has tendered his resignation as head of the Burbank Chamber of Commerce, giving as his reason the press of private business.

Upon the acceptance of this resignation, Chas. B. Wood, who is one of the directors, was elected in his place and Clifford Thompson was elected as a member of the board to fill the vacancy created when Wood was made president.

The board took action on a new headquarters for the chamber by voting to take space in the building which Mrs. May Clarke is to build on the Santa Rosa property on Olive avenue. This space is to be 30x70, according to the present plan. Mrs. Clarke expects to begin the building within a short time.

Boys' Week Program

Dr. Philip E. Zeiss, chairman of the boys' work committee of the Burbank Rotary club, will guide "Boys' Week" activities here, April 27 to May 3, assisted by L. F. Collins, Dale Eichar, Val Bonney, F. C. Miller and E. R. Butterfield.

The week begins Sunday, when all the ministers will take "boys" as the subjects of their sermons, and chosen men will address the boys in the Sunday schools.

Monday will be education day and naturally the schools will emphasize the thought of training for the future of the boys. Men will be selected to speak in the schools while it is planned to have the boys themselves talk in their rooms as to how they may grow into good men.

A further schedule will be announced later.

EAGLE ROCK

KIWANIANS BACK BOY SCOUT MOVE

Committee Will Help Raise $1200 Quota for Work of Coming Year

The Eagle Rock Kiwanis club has endorsed the local Boy Scout movement and appointed a committee to conduct a campaign for the kuota of $1200 needed to conduct this year's work. In the near future every resident of the community will be solicited.

"The time has come when local boys who are Scouts should go before the adults of the community for funds to carry on their splendid work," declares Dr. Harry B. Crawford. "The movement trains boys for useful citizenship, along lines approved by the U. S. government, and like the Red Cross is financed locally.

"There are 103 Boy Scouts in Eagle Rock, divided into five troops, sponsored by the various churches, with scoutmasters furnished by the local post of the American Legion. Camps are conducted as follows:

"Week-end Friday and Saturday camps once a month from April to November. Free of charge. Week-end camping trips are not conducted over Sunday. Easter vacation camping trips to San Diego. Summer vacation camp at Catalina Island. Christmas vacation snow trip.

Boy Scouts are Pledged: To do at least one "good turn" or kindness each day. To be faithful in their religious duties and to keep themselves physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight. You wish this splendid movement for the boys of Eagle Rock to continue and you will, of course, give it your hearty support.

Here and There

Members of the American Legion were of the opinion that their option to purchase the old Congregational church building was good until they raised the money but this opinion was not shared by the members of the building committee, who have honored the bid of the First Born of the United Sons of the Almighty. The building will shortly be moved to the corner of Yosemite and Townsend avenues.

PUPILS PREPARE EXHIBIT OF WORK

Tasks of Every Class to Be Displayed at School In Annual Show

School children of Tujunga are preparing for the annual exhibit of their work to be held May 1. Samples of every kind of work done will be on display in the various rooms for the inspection of parents and friends of the school children. The exhibit will be open both afternoon and evening. At 5:30 the Parent-Teacher Association will serve a cafeteria supper in the domestic science room. In the evening there will be a declamation contest, the second to be held by this school. All pupils of the school are eligible and prizes will be awarded. Last year the pupils had a costume parade and moving pictures were taken of the entries.

The National Association of Real Estate Boards has brought to the attention of the Tujunga Valley Realty Board the efforts being made to stamp out unauthorized users of the term "realtor" and offers the aid of its general counsel to assist the local board in prosecuting these dealers.

Defines 'Realtor'

A "realtor" is a real estate broker who is a member of the local board, having membership in the national association, which is an organization incorporated to disseminate knowledge among the real estate brokers and for the protecton of the public against fraudulent agents. It is the business of the realtor to give to the public the professional services in realty matters that will protect the owners in transactions. It is claimed that 60 per cent of the wealth of the United States is invested in real estate and that 50 per cent of the litigation before the courts has its foundation in the ignorance of proper procedure in transactions.

The Tujunga board has undertaken the task of enlightening all who are interested in these matters by forming a class in the instruction of the different phases of real estate transactions, with the primary object of protecting the owners who list property and the buyers as well. Details of this plan are expected to be perfected at next Monday's meeting of the board.

Six members of the Tujunga Boy Scout troops have been on a trip to the Mexican border with scoutmasters for the purpose of inspecting the government institutions along the border. The trip was made by stage.

Traffic Increases

According to a check made of traffic through Tujunga on the state highway an increase of 20,000 people is shown over a check made in March, 1922, at the same point. On March 16, 1922, 5800 cars passed the Garden of the Moon on Michigan avenue. On April 13, 1924, during a period of eight hours, 9600 cars passed the same point, according to the checker who made the count. This would indicate that the boulevard through Tujunga valley is being used by a greater number of motorists this year than previously. One reason for this may be the building of the bridge over the Tujunga wash two years ago and the general improvement of the boulevard. With the completion of the bridge over Pacoima wash, now under construction, it is estimated that traffic on this route will double. To this end the various civic organizations in the valley are working for the widening of the pavement to make motoring safe.

CLUB WILL HONOR PAST PRESIDENTS

Four Former Officers Will Be Special Guests at Luncheon Tomorrow

Past presidents of the Tujunga Women's club will be honored at a luncheon Thursday, April 24, to be given as a special mark of honor on the eve of the erection of the club's new home, the first permanent one it has had. Mrs. Mark White will supervise the affair and special invitations have been issued. Past presidents now living in Tujunga are Mrs. L. May Dean, Mrs. M. M. Mendenhall, Mrs. Guy Barry and Mrs. D. J. Warnick. A special invitation was sent to Mrs. Frost, the first president of the club in 1913, who now resides in Ysilanti, Mich.

Plans for the new club building have been approved by the building committee and work on the structure is expected to begin this week. The building will be of the bungalow type and will be thirty by thirty feet, with a twelve-foot kitchen along the length of one side. The exterior will be finished in stucco and the interior will be panelled. Cost of the building is estimated at $3000. Many articles of furniture have been given and others pledged to the club by members and friends of the organization. The finished building will be well appointed and will furnish a convenient and comfortable home for the club. The lot upon which it will be built was a gift from M. V. Hartranft of the California Home Extension company. Nelson E. Jones will have charge of the work, which will be done under day labor contract.

Party Aids Fund

The hard times party given by the men friends of the club netted $72.35 to the building fund. A turkey dinner was given by the members Saturday that also brought a substantial sum. Tuesday night a dance was given at Masonic hall by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Parcher and Mr. and Mrs. Mills, the receipts going to the building fund. These and similar affairs given in the recent past have been well supported by friends of the club and they, in turn, have enjoyed many pleasant entertainments.

The marriage of Miss Florence McEwen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. McEwen of Tujunga, and Thomas J. Ellis was solemnized Saturday, April 12, at the Tujunga Community church parsonage. Rev. Stotts performed the ceremony. Only a few close friends and relatives were present. The couple plan to make their home in Tujunga.

New School Paper

The Live Wire News is a school paper that is being edited and printed by the pupils of the Tujunga Grammar school. The type is set by a seventh grade boy and the printing is also done by a seventh grader. One of the girls is editor-in-chief, and announces that the first number will soon be off the press.

Judge H. H. Breidt is making extensive improvements on his grounds at his home on Monte Vista boulevard, near Olive street. Shrubbery is being placed in front and a large pool has been constructed in the rear garden, where a number of choice fish will be kept. Ornamental stone work was used in forming the walls of the fish pond and a frog fountain supplies the water. Pond lilies offer decorative effects in the water. An arbor will be shaded by grape vines trained across it and rustic benches will be placed in the garden.

HEAR REPORTS ON CLUB ACTIVITIES

Give Statements on Work of Past Months; Select Biennial Delegates

Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, travel.

Each report gave in detail the organization, membership, aims and co-operation of the department and gave a comprehensive idea of the active units making up the Tuesday Afternoon Club, one of the prominent clubs in district and state affairs.

Mrs. Campbell's report told of her devoted service to the club in activities within the club circle and in affairs of other clubs and in district matters.

Standing out in her report was the statement that the club now has 949 members in good standing. Her farewell message to the club will be given at the annual luncheon in June.

The next regular meeting of the club falls on the fifth Tuesday, and Tilda Rohr, contralto, will give a program in the afternoon.

TRUCK COMPANIES' PLEAD

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—The Scandia Trucking and Transportation Company, D. H. Shiffman, Pacific Transportation Company, Frank H. White and the Diamond Transport and Storage Company, all operating between Los Angeles and the harbor, today are having a hearing before the state railroad commission in the matter certificate. It is their contention that they were operating before the law was passed placing motor transportation under the commission's jurisdiction.

Why I Am In Glendale

It seems so out of the question to be any other place that we seldom stop to put into words just why we are here! But down in our hearts we all know that this is the only place to live.

The reasons are:

1. The spirit of Glendale. It greets the lucky wanderer as soon as he enters the city, shedding around him an atmosphere of contentment and happiness that ensnares his footsteps. Soon we see him searching madly for a home, and his voice is raised with ours in the chorus of praise.
2. Our city is beautiful; a city of homes where the finest people from all over the land are living.
3. Our climate is equable.
4. We have an unlimited business field, at home, and in the largest city on the coast which lies just a half hour's ride away.
5. Our schools and churches are the best.
6. Finally, we are "the fastest growing city in America."

Expresses Thanks to Community Service

Peter Hanson, president of the Glendale Realty Board, has sent the following letter relative to the Easter sunrise service at Forest Lawn to R. E. Tucker, secretary of Glendale Community Service:

"Dear Mr. Tucker—I want to commend you most heartily for the wonderful program the Community Service put on. I think it was the most beautiful service of the kind, that I ever attended, and of course the beautiful morning helped. Such a service helps a community and you have made new friends for Community Service. It entailed a great deal of work and your organization is to be congratulated.

"If at any time there is anything I can do, I hope you will feel free to call upon me, and I believe I can say the same for the realty board.

"Very sincerely yours,
"PETER HANSON,
"President."

HONOR TO LOCAL ORGANIZATIONS

Glendale Choral Club and Symphony Orchestra in Prominent Place

Glendale Community Service has been shown a real preference in the big gathering of Southern California Choruses in the Hollywood Bowl, Sunday afternoon, May 4, to open the observance of National Music Week in Los Angeles. Through an invitation from Mrs. J. J. Carter, chairman of this feature in the Los Angeles Music Week prgram, the Glendale Choral Club and the Symphony Orchestra have been asked to each give a number in the afternoon service. Other choruses will use a community sing number given from their position in the audience. Glendale Choral Club and Symphony Orchestra will sing and play from the platform.

Credit is due to J. A. Myers, director of the two musical organizations that are bringing a great deal of publicity to Glendale.

Glendale is observing in a big way National Music Week, May 4 to 10, and a special program is being worked out that will take in all the different organizations and gatherings in the city.

Install "Check" Seal Laundry Equipment

It cuts "blue" Monday out of your week

PUT the full burden of washday on electricity. It is strong, capable and willing.

But electricity must have the right equipment if it is to do its work well. There must be convenient electrical outlets and the appliances must be trouble-free and easy to operate.

That's why you should employ a "Check" Seal contractor to electrify your laundry. He will put outlets where you need them. He uses wiring devices that have been inspected. He does his work well and charges you a fair price for it.

Then let him install a Hurley Thor electric washer and ironer—the machines that more than 800,000 women use. After that there will be no more "Blue" Mondays in your week.

Look for the "Check" Seal! Patronize "Check" Seal contractors and retailers! They stand for standard electrical equipment properly installed.

HOME WEDDING POPULAR COUPLE IS SOCIAL EVENT

Miss Permelia Thompson And William K. Vernon Married In L. A.

The wedding of Miss Permelia Mabel Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Thompson of 305 North Central avenue, and William Kirk Vernon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Vernon of Upland, which was solemnized last night, Tuesday, April 22, 1924, at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Strong of 685 South Vermont avenue, Los Angeles, is attracting wide attention among the social circles of the Southland.

Rev. James Vernon, grandfather of the groom, and former pastor of the Christian church of Canton, Ohio, was the officiant.

The spacious rooms of the Strong home, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, lent an artistic setting for the ceremony. The wedding party stood before the large bay window in the living room for the reading of the marriage service. Graceful strands of ferns entwined with orange blossoms formed a fragrant canopy from which was suspended a white wedding bell of white roses, orange blossoms and lilies of the valley. At each side two tall bronze standards holding slender white candles were placed alternately with graceful white baskets filled with Easter lilies. Baskets of Easter lilies and other white flowers formed the background for the setting.

Mrs. Fallis Sings

Preceding the reading of the marriage service, Mrs. Irvin Fallis of Glendale sang "Because" and "At Dawning," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. J. Baird, also of Glendale. The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Mrs. Baird for the entrance of the bridal party.

Miss Marjorie McComber and Miss Marion Buckman of Los Angeles and Miss Mildred Cole and Miss Marguerite Eckles of Glendale were the bridesmaids. Miss McComber and Miss Eckles wore pale blue georgette crepe frocks made with tight basks and full skirts and Miss Cole and Miss Buckman wore frocks of pale pink georgette crepe. They all carried arm bouquets of pastel shaded sweetpeas and greenery and long streamers of pink tulle which formed the aisle.

Miss Luella Lockwood of Los Angeles was maid of honor. She wore a becoming gown of orchid georgette crepe and carried an arm bouquet of orchid sweetpeas.

Cousin Is Flower Girl

Little Marjorie Rae Parker, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a dainty frock of pale pink georgette crepe and carried a basket filled with cecil brunner roses.

The bride, who is a very attractive and charming young woman, was beautiful in her white wedding gown of chiffon draped over satin and embroidered in crystal beads. She wore a long silken veil which was fastened in place with orange blossoms and lilies of the valley. She carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses and lilies of the valley and fern. She was given in marriage by her father.

Mr. Vernon was attended by Herbert McCulloch of Camp Baldy as best man.

For the wedding Mrs. Thompson wore a gown of grey beaded chiffon. Mrs. Vernon wore a rich gown of black Spanish lace.

Reception Held

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held when Mrs. Vernon cut her wedding cake which was served with ice cream. Punch was also served during the evening.

Mrs. Vernon has been the guest of honor at many prenuptial social events and her many gifts were the source of much admiration from the guests.

Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Vernon left by boat for Canada where they will remain until May 8, when they will return to make their home temporarily in Los Angeles. They plan on spending the summer months in the mountains, moving to Uplands in the fall where they will make their permanent home, and where Mr. Vernon will go into business.

Mrs. Vernon has been a resident of Glendale for the past year and a half, coming here from Huntington Park, where she was president of the Huntington Park High school student body. She later attended the University of Southern California and is a member of the Delta Gamma Sorority. Mr. Vernon is of Stanford university.

For her wedding trip Mrs. Vernon wore a grey suit with fur hat and shoes in corresponding shades.

MICHIGAN

JACKSON—A mother of twelve children, Mrs. Mary Gilbert, aged 80, reversed the usual story here lately when, faced with the choice of husband or children, she took her place beside her husband and bade her two youngest children goodbye.

Her husband, Bert Gilbert, is her second marriage and is only half her age, but she claims that he is kinder than anyone else in the world. It is a fact that Bert Gilbert played as a boy with Mrs. Gilbert's sons, and had many a cookie from her hands in the past.

Gilbert said that he and the children could never be happy under the same roof and that his wife must choose between them. She did and took the unusual choice of sticking to her husband.

YPSILANTI—A stray Airedale, well-known in this town, is faced with the unusual possibility of being arrested and haled into court, if no other means of disposing of him is found. A recent order of the mayor's that all stray dogs be shot has failed to take effect in this case, as the police are afraid of exceeding their authority. Therefore, Judge Curtiss and City Attorney John Kirk have decided to issue a warrant for "Sandy" and put the matter up to him like a gentleman.

OHIO

TOLEDO—A Toledo woman of 74, who died in St. Vincent hospital after an operation for "tumor," was discovered to have carried the body of a perfectly formed baby girl for more than fifty-one years. It is said by local physicians that this is one of the marvels of medical history, as mothers have been known to carry the bodies of unborn children for a year or two, but never for half a century. A Caesarian operation at the proper time would more than likely have saved the child and prevented the formation of what was later thought to be a tumor, was the medical opinion given after the autopsy.

LOUISIANA

NEW ORLEANS—After a thorough probe of the information furnished the grand jury that hush money and protection money had been paid to the district attorney's office and that someone in that office was implicated in the slot machine scandals, the reports were noted as groundless.

During the report a hot shot was delivered by the district attorney, in which he scored judges of the civil court, which issued injunctions restraining the police from enforcing the law.

MISSISSIPPI

GULFPORT—The prisoners of the Harrison county jail have completed organization of a "kangaroo court," which will have only convicts as its members. Any violation of the rules they have laid down for themselves will result in being barred from holding office in their society. All their program has been approved by the jail warden, as he believes the self-government will induce the men to put forth greater efforts as good citizens.

NEVADA

RENO—Coyotes, once the most evident of all our western wild life, are dying out. During the month of March, 69 hunters killed 288 coyotes, 81 bobcats and one mountain lion. At the rate that they are being killed the next five years will see the last of them in these parts where the sheep are run. It is chiefly due to the action of the sheep owners that bounties are put on the pelts of predatory animals.

LOVELOCK—The children of this town lost over two weeks' school work through a scarlet fever epidemic, and then more time when the principal had the measles, and still more when they themselves came down with childhood's favorite malady. As a result they are being forced to cram so as to accomplish the given amount of work. The children think it's just too measle-ly!

It had been her fond dream to do so before she died, and suddenly she had her wish—but it was in a police automobile. She was not arrested, but went with a kindly officer to the jail to make complaint against a man who had swindled her son out of $400. On her return she smiled grimly and said she would have enjoyed the novelty more if the ... been

OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY—Last Wednesday was the opening of the baseball season in Oklahoma City and, as far as local players can ascertain, was one of the few towns which made a half holiday of the occasion.

Mayor Cargill declared the afternoon off for all city employes and requested that the business houses do the same as a tribute to America's grand ol' game. It is thought by some that he wanted as large an audience as possible when he received the first ball of the season, pitched by Governor Trapp.

TULSA—It has come to light that a pardon is valueless unless it is signed and stamped by the secretary of state. This was discovered when Henry Smith, a resident of this city, brought suit against R. Over 200 pardons signed by ex-Governor Walton on his last day in office have been dismissed as invalid because of the lack of Sneed's attestation.

TIGERS ASSEMBLE FOR ANNIVERSARY

Founders' Day at Occidental Marked by Impressive Ceremonies

Founders' Day was formally celebrated at Occidental College today. All the present and past members of the administration, board of trustees, alumni, benefactors, and friends of the institution joined in the impressive ceremonies.

The outstanding feature of the day was the formal dedication and presentation of the new $150,000 Mary Clapp library to Occidental College by an anonymous benefactor. The handsome structure of granite and concrete, fireproof throughout, has special features which include a room with a capacity for 100,000 volumes, a large spacious reading room for general study, roomy office for the head librarian, receiving and delivery rooms, six specially constructed seminar rooms, and additional research rooms, besides various department study chambers. In the basement is the storeroom and a large vault for valuable manuscripts and old books.

Ancient Tradition

In the morning the exercises were opened with the Lighting of the Candles, a tradition of Occidental. Representatives of the board of trustees, administration, benefactors, alumni, student body, and friends lighted the sacred Tiger candles. The Arden Dramatic society presented several humorous skits.

In the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Dr. William Munroe of Harvard university delivered an address. Following this, President R. D. Bird conferred upon Dr. W. S. Young, of the board of trustees, the honorary decree of doctor of laws.

There was a reception for the alumni and friends in the Y. W. C. A. room. Tonight in the college commons, an alumni banquet will be held. The Men's and Women's Glee clubs are to give several selections.

Seven Colleges In Oratorical Contest

The annual men's oratorical contest for the year 1924 will be held at California Institution of Technology Thursday night, April 24. Representatives from the seven colleges in the Southern California League of Public Speaking will compete for first honors. A silver loving cup has been donated for the winner, besides a gold medal.

Paul Carter will represent Occidental in the oratorical contest. Under the coaching of Professor Lindley, he has achieved a masterful oration. His subject is "The Anarchy of War."

Pomona, Whittier, Redlands, Calteck, S. B. U. C. and U. S. C. are the other colleges to be reuresented in the contest.

Student Volunteers To Hold Conference

The Student volunteer conference of Southern California will be held at Occidental college on April 27, 28 and 29. An excellent program touching on campus problems has been arranged. COMMENT That's All Coolidge's Keynote Speech Support of Dawes' Report Hoof and Mouth Scourge Why Not Common Sense?

By Gil A. Cowan

President Coolidge comes to the fore with the suggestion that the United States finance Europe.

Without criticising the chief, executive, may it not be suggested that southern California be financed first?

Charity begins at home, and we honestly believe that charity should be extended those who are building the empire of the west.

Reverting to Mr. Coolidge's keynote speech, however, there is much worthy of praise therein. He will win many votes with his statement that taxation should be made as light as possible, instead of wringing every penny possible from the people.

And in emphasizing service in public office, particularly in view of those who have found that selfish interests lead only to oblivion, the president is indirectly making a plea for better equipped officeholders, one can believe.

With regards to his support of the Dawes reparations commission report, it remains to be seen by the American public whether it is meet and wise for us now to attempt the refinancing of Germany. The terms are ambiguous, according to observers, and perhaps President Coolidge will not favor it heartily when he hears Henry M. Robinson of Pasadena give his version of the meeting held in France, where Americans were more or less supernumeraries, with the exception, of course, of Chairman Dawes.

It must be rather difficult for a banker of the type of Mr. Robinson to be highly honored to a commission, only to find that it is more or less of an empty honor—a task for statisticians upon whom one must rely.

How much rather would mortal man engage in a game where all the cards are on the table, and the deck not stacked against his lonely ace.

When The Santa Barbara News speaks on a subject, it does so with authority. Regarding the present quarantine for the foot-and-mouth disease, its editor says:

While the supervisors of the various counties and other officials are in duty bound to take all possible precautions to prevent the spread of the hoof-and-mouth disease, the quarantine measures they adopt should be dictated by sound common sense.

These representatives of the people should bear in mind that the highways of the state belong to the people. They were built for the traffic, not of one or ten counties, but for all the people.

It would be well also to keep in mind that quarantine, enforced under narrow-minded quarantine regulations, framed by those who forget all other considerations in their industrious pursuit of germs, can do as much harm to the business of the people as the germs they are fighting.

In their anxiety to build up a germ-proof quarantine, some of the supervisors and advisers in the fight against the cattle plague seem to have forgotten that they do not own the roads.

While the superivsors of a county. They can not be made their efforts to keep out disease, they should bear in mind that there is an orderly and proper legal method for exercising their powers.

They have it in their power to enact ordinances for the protection of the people against the spread of the cattle plague. But such ordinances, when enacted, apply to all the people within the country. They can not be made to bear o nthe man who travels on pleasure and not on the man who travels on business.

If travelers are germ carriers, the motive of their traveling makes no difference. They must submit to the same laws and the same terms and conditions of their traveling.

The state highways that happen to lie in Santa Barbara county, while chiefly used by the people of this county, do not belong to this county or its people.

They are built on public right-of-ways, placed in the control of the state. The roads are built with the money of the people of the state and jurisdiction over these roads is in the hands of the state representatives. These roads are built for the convenience and use of those who are passing through this country as much as for the people of the county.

The county has no power, and should have none, to obstruct the traffic on these roads further than to provide proper protective measures to guard against disease.

What has been said of the roads of this county applies as well to all the other roads in the highway system and to all other counties as well. The senseless and undue interference with travel which amounts to an embargo is in defiance of the laws and beyond the authority of county officers.

When the governor of Arizona undertakes to bar traffic from California into Arizona, he is far beyond his legal rights. The traffic between states, both by rail and highway is under the protection of the United States, and is not controlled by the states.

Only recently an attempt of the California railroad commission to apply some state regulation to carriers was declared invalid by the United States courts on the ground that the state had invaded the rights of the federal government. This is only one of hundreds of decisions establishing the same principle.

That principle applies as well to cattle quarantine as it does to the legislative or railroad commission attempts to control traffic between the states.

The leaders in county quaran- that the right of free travel is one that they can not impair. The preventive regulations are right and proper and will meet with the universal support of the people. Senseless attempts to lay an embargo on traffic will fail, as they ought to fail.

The county officers should get together and frame a set of regulations which can be legally enforced and which should take into consideration some of the basic principles of law.

Women Students Will Hold May Festival

On May 7, the associated women students of Occidental college will hold their annual May Day festival and Women's High school day program. The senior girls of many of the high schools of Southern California have been invited to spend the day on the Occidental campus. The guests will spend the morning visiting classes and will attend the chapel service at which Dr. R. D. Bird will be the speaker.

Then at 2:30 p. m., one of Occidental's customs, the crowning of the May Queen, accompanied by the May dances, will take place. Following the festival there will be a reception at the home of President and Mrs. Bird.

Miss Beth Dean was recently chosen by the associated women students to be the May Queen.

AMERICAN MEDICAN ASSOCIATION ANALYSES OF

Since I wrote about the analyses of fake reducing cures made by the American Medical Association, I have had many letters asking me if the Association would analyse certain medicines the writers were taking. The head of the Association's Bureau of Investigation tells me that the only patent medicines taken for examination are those about which they have had a good many inquiries and which have had a wide sale. In this way, expensive and time consuming work in analysis proves of benefit to the entire country.

The laboratory of the American Medical Association does no commercial work—that is, no work for fees. All of these analyses are made at the expense of the Association for the benefit of the public and for the medical profession. City or state chemists will not make indiscriminate analyses of preparations, either.

Those of you who have any particular patent medicine you want analyzed, will have to take it to a chemist in private practice; although if there are sufficient requests for a certain analysis and if there is a wide sale of the product, the American Medical Association will do it.

Answers to Correspondents

Mrs. H.—Sometimes, in the artificial menopause (one brought on by removal of the ovaries) such as you are experiencing, the taking of tablets made from certain portions of animal ovaries, is of decided benefit. Some of the symptoms of menopause are purely mental symptoms brought about by the idea that after menopause disagreeable things can be expected. Keep yourself in the best of physical condition by proper diet, such as I am talking about in the column all the time—plenty of milk, green vegetables and fruit, whole grain cereals and whole grain bread, etc. Forget that you have your ovaries removed, and consult your physicians to see if he won't prescribe some of this organic extract I have mentioned.

Mrs. L. B. W.—I never mention names, Mrs. W. Sometimes I use the first initial, sometimes the second and sometimes the third and sometimes another letter entirely. Your hubby won't know that you are reducing—not from me, anyway.

What is the matter with certain hubbies, anyway? Don't they want their wives healthier, better looking and happier. I think some of them are jealous. Ill health does follow any prolonged reduction, unless the reducing is done correctly; but if the system is deprived of only some of its energy needs, instead of ill health, better health results.

I imagine very few people reduce for any length of time without back-sliding now and then. It doesn't do any harm—it makes you angry with yourself, that's all. You can start all over again. Not always easily, however. You may have to go on a liquid diet, and not over 600 to 800 calories a day, in order to get your stomach and system back to its good behaviour so that it doesn't call for excess food so loudly.

On this liquid diet you could have any liquids you want, so that you don't over 600 to 800 calories. I advise skim or buttermilk because of its complete protein and calcium. However, orange or other fruit juices are perhaps equally as good. A glass of skim or buttermilk is 80 calories, a glass of orange juice is 100 calories. If you want to, you can take a glass of buttermilk and four dates—(for dates are 100 calories) and these two amount to 180 calories. The dates furnish iron. This makes a very pleasant combination to most of us.

Tasting is one of the worst things Satan ever devised, for those of us who belong to the F. F. F.'s. One taste invariably leads to another. You can reduce even though you do your own cooking, if you want to. You simply have to want to hard enough. Go to it again, Mrs. W., and success attend your efforts.

?? Don't Work For Money ??

What's this? SADA COWAN, here pictured, says that women don't work for money! Thousands of women who do not have to work—do. Miss Cowan gives her version of the reason why.

By MARGERY PICKARD
Central Press Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 23.—Thousands of women who do not have to work do. Why?

The answer, says Sada Cowan, who has won success as a writer of original stories, adaptations and titles for the screen, is the desire for independence. Not mere financial independence, but the power that comes with standing alone.

Her views on the subject are interesting, for Sada Cowan is one of those women who doesn't have to work, but does.

"The modern woman plans her future just the same as man has done through all the centuries when he has been recognized as the family provider. The woman who succeeds does not look forward to a life of ease after she has accumulated a certain amount, because the urge to do is too strong within her, and she realizes that life is uninteresting without work. Many men succumb to this delusion, but women never do.

The Social Aspect

"The average girl who starts to work for a living does so, not because she likes it especially, but because her salary enables her to buy clothes and otherwise to prepare herself for marriage, the ultimate desire of most women. To her, a raise in salary means merely the possibility of getting finer apparel. Only when she honestly enjoys the work and gives to it her heart and soul, can she attain real success. It is not necessary, incidentally, for her to adopt the mode and manner of the comic supplement suffragette; the successful business or professional woman today is as smartly dressed as any social leader and just as much at home in any surroundings.

"Another attraction which work holds for any girl is the fact that she meets men in the business world whose acquaintance she would not be able to make in her restricted family circle. This is one of the reasons that women always prefer to work for men. The other, perhaps the more potent reason, is the fact that there is always present a sex stimulus which sharpens both the man and the woman and leads them on to better work. Here is, incidentally, one of the great arguments for collaboration of a man and a woman, rather than by two members of the same sex. It holds true in any field."

Miss Cowan herself does much of her work in collaboration with Howard Higgin.

Her own ultimate wants are still uncertain; "none of us can really state them until the moment of their possible execution is at hand," she says. "Of one thing I am sure, that this independence will bring me the power to choose only such work as I feel will bring out the best I have to offer. Nobody can hope for more."

Sada Cowan's own experience stands back of her ideals and her utterances. She has studied music, art and literature all over the world. She is the author of sixteen one-act playlets and a four-act stage drama which have achieved considerable success. She started in the films as a student with Cecil B. de Mille, while she learned her new profession of scenario writing.

OATMEAL FOR THE HANDS

People are extraordinarily careless about what would seem to be the simplest thing in the world, washing and drying the hands. A great many wonder why their hands are continually chapping even in summer, and do not know it is simply because they half dry them after washing and go outdoors with damp hands exposed to the weather, or plunge into a lot of dusty work with the hands still moist and ready to pick up all the dirt that's flying.

When you wash your hands choose a good quality oily soap, castile being the best for this as for many other purposes. The water should never be hot enough to dry the skin too much, neither should the soap be strong enough to take out all the natural oils. If the hands are so dirty that a mild soap seems no good, smear them thickly with cold cream or lard, then wash them thoroughly with hot water, castile soap and a little scrubbing brush. If they are badly stained, wash them, rub them with lemon juice, then cold cream since lemon is drying, and then a final washing with soap and water.

Now there are many little tricks to learn if you want to keep your hands always smooth and white. One is that finely powdered oatmeal rubbed over the hands after they are properly dried will keep the skin from chapping, will make it beautifully white and very soft and fine of texture.

If you consider this too much of a bother, purchase oatmeal soap and use it for washing the hands, or else purchase a large bar of castile and melt it into a thick syrupy jelly, not with hot water, as you do for shampooing, but with a hot oatmeal gruel. This is nothing but oatmeal which has been boiled and boiled and boiled with a lot of water until when cold it forms a thick syrup. The castile is simply melted in this in the proportion of a one pound bar of soap to a pound of the oatmeal gruel, allowed to cool and harden then cut into cakes.

A Constant Reader—Use tar or castile soap for shampooing. If the hair is coming out, you need a tonic. I will send the formula for mine, if you send a stamped self-addressed enevelope.

Esther L. N.—The starch treatment is intended to cleanse the pores, but like all powder it will absorb the secretions, so always use enough cream later until the skin has recovered from this drying process.

Use this after washing

Henna—The henna shampoo will give your hair the bright tint you mention. It is quite harmless and will not change the actual color of the hair. Your weight should be 115 pounds.

Tomorrow—Beauty-Making Sports.

The real sponge cake contains no baking powder. The only rising properties in it are the eggs; it is made light by the amount of air beaten into the eggs and by the expansion of that air in baking. The following recipe will be found rich and delicious:

Sponge Cake: Beat the yolks of six eggs till thick and lemon-colored, then add gradually (beating constantly) one cup of granulated sugar, one tablespoon of lemon juice, rind of one-half lemon, stiffly-beaten whites of six eggs and one cup of ordinary bread flour sifted with one-fourth teaspoon of salt. The flour should be sifted in lightly when the egg-whites are partly mixed with the yolk-mixture, and the folding motion should be very gentle. Turn the batter into an angel cake pan or into a deep, narrow pan, and bake for sixty minutes in a slow oven.

Baking Powder Sponge Cake: Although this is not a real sponge cake (as it contains baking powder), it is, nevertheless, an excellent substitute for everyday use, being more economical because it takes only three eggs. Beat three egg-yolks till thick, then add to them a pinch of salt, one cup of granulated sugar, the juice and rind of one-half lemon, four tablespoons of cold water and three stiffly-whipped egg-whites. When these whites are partly mixed with the yolk-mixture, begin sifting in one cup of pastry flour to which one and one-half teaspoons of baking powder have been added. (If you use ordinary bread flour include two level tablespoons of dry cornstarch in the cupful, as this will make it more like pastry flour.)

Children's Sponge Cup Cakes: This recipe, too, is not a genuine sponge cake, because it contains baking powder, but it is a simple cake which is not too rich for a child to eat. To make it, break two eggs into a cup and then fill the cup with rich top-milk or cream. Mix and sift one and one-half cups of ordinary bread flour with one cup of granulated sugar and two teaspoons of baking powder. Put the liquid mixture into a bowl with the dry mixture and beat all together hard (with a spoon) for five minutes. Then bake in buttered cup cake pans for ten minutes in a hot oven.

I am repeatedly asked by my readers whether it is necessary to butter the pan for a real sponge cake. No, it is not necessary if no cakes containing butter have ever been baked in the pan. But if butter cakes have been baked in the pan, then it is best to oil and flour the pan for sponge cake. The best plan is to keep one pan especially for sponge cake, and never grease or oil it.

Dinner Stories

THEN HE GOT IT

Nearly everything he has to say, Associate Justice Reynolds of the United States Supreme Court prefaces with a story. Occasionally the justice tells a story with a point so subtle that only those with a keenly pitched sense of humor can "get" it. One night at a dinner he offered something that created not the slightest ripple of laughter. He waited a reasonable length of time, and then observed:

"Well, at least don't cry about it."

Still nobody laughed. "Maybe it will come in by freight," Mr. Reynolds added.

An Englishman was seated next to the justice. His curiosity aroused, he asked:

"What do you mean when you say come by freight?"

"Slowly, like a freight train," explained the justice. "They'll get the story if they wait long enough, don't you see?"

A great light dawned in the Englishman's eyes. "Ah," he exclaimed, "you mean steam packet. Story shipped by steam packet. 'Twould be utterly absurd, wouldn't it—ha, ha, ha!"

MILLIONS IN COSMETICS

The American woman, collectively speaking, spends about $150,000,000 a year in hair nets; $145,000,000 for scented soaps, and $63,000,000 for miscellaneous cosmetics. These are the three essential items, but the grand total for all kinds of toilet preparations is $750,000,000.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover will be chairman and Mrs. Robert Lansing will be secretary of the national convention of the Woman's National Committee for Law Enforcement which will convene in Washington, D. C., April 10 and 11. A great pageant, "Liberty in Law," will be put on by Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Forest. Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the general federation of women's clubs, is urging that wherever possible delegations of club women will be large enough to charter special cars, and where this is not possible that large delegations be sent.

"Probably no question except that of 'war or peace' is of more importance to us at present than that of law enforcement," says Mrs. Winter.

The biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs will meet in Los Angeles in June. The outstanding subject to be discussed at this convention will be, "Who Shall Inherit the United States?" introduced by the department of legislation, of which Mrs. Edward Franklin White is chairman. Oswald Ryan of Anderson, Ind., commissioner who accompanied Secretary of Labor Davis overseas, will be the speaker, and his talk will have to do largely with the immigration question. Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney-general of the United States, will be another speaker at the convention.

Twenty-five million gallons of mountain water a day will be the capacity of a pipe line from the Spavinaw hills to Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S PAPER HAT

Uncle Wiggily, one morning, had just finished eating his breakfast of sugar-covered carrots in the hollow stump bungalow when a knock sounded at the front door. Such a timid, baby sort of a knock as it was!

"That can't be the Fox or the Wolf," said Uncle Wiggily to Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, who started to creep toward the door. "Those bad animals would surely knock harder than that. It must be some of the animal children. Look and see who it is, Nurse Jane."

The muskrat lady housekeeper glanced from the window before opening the door.

"Why, it's the paper cat!" she exclaimed in surprise. "I see a bundle of papers under his paw."

"The paper cat!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Nonsense, Nurse Jane! I have my morning paper, and it isn't time for the evening one, with the bedtime story in. Look again, but make sure it isn't the Bob Cat or the Bear with a bundle of old papers, just pretending to be the delivery cat."

"It can't be the Bear or Bob Cat," spoke Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "Oh, it's Baby Bunty!" she cried, as she looked again. "She has a bundle of papers under her paw—the little tyke!"

By this time Baby Bunty, the wee, cute girl rabbit, was inside the hollow stump bungalow.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily," she called in her jolly little voice. "Did you think I was the paper cat?"

"Well, almost!" laughed the rabbit gentleman, twinkling his pink nose on one side. "Why have you brought all those papers, Bunty?"

"So you can make me a soldier's hat, and fireman's hat, and a paper boat, and all things like that," answered Bunty. "I am going to stay here with you today and keep you company, and you can make fun for me with paper hats and things."

"Now, see here, Baby Bunty!" exclaimed Nurse Jane. "Uncle Wiggily wants to go out and look for an adventure. He can't stay here with you, making paper hats. The idea!"

"Oh, yes, I don't mind staying in!" said the good-natured rabbit gentleman. "It will be a change for me. And, perhaps an adventure may come to the bungalow instead of making me hop out after it. Come on, Baby Bunty, we'll make paper hats!"

"Well, I never saw such a rabbit!" whispered Nurse Jane, as she went out in the kitchen to give the dishes their morning bath. "The idea of staying in just because Bunty brought a bundle of old papers."

However, Uncle Wiggily seemed very happy as he creased and folded the papers Bunty gave him, making all sorts of queer things of them. At last Nurse Jane finished the dishes and, creeping into the room where Mr. Longears sat on the floor with Bunty, the muskrat lady said:

"Since you aren't going out adventuring, Wiggy, I'll go out myself."

"Go ahead," invited the bunny uncle. "I'll stay here with Bunty."

So he did, and, after he had made the little girl rabbit a paper boat, she clapped her paws and said:

Now make me another soldier hat!"

This Mr. Longears did, and he even fastened a paper plume on the side of the hat, making it stick with some glue which he squeezed out of a tin tube.

"That's a fine hat!" cried Baby Bunty, as she paraded around. "Now make me a fireman's hat."

Uncle Wiggily did this by turning up one point of a soldier's hat and fastening it in place with glue.

"Now make me a stylish hat like Mrs. Twistytail, the lady pig, buys at the six and seven cent store," begged Bunty.

Uncle Wiggily was making this hat when, all of a sudden, the door of the bungalow was pushed open and in pranced the Fuzzy Fox. Nurse Jane had forgotten to lock the door when she went out. Wasn't that too bad?

"Gurr! Gurr!" barked the Fox, opening his mouth and showing his sharp teeth. And, well, Uncle Wiggily and Bunty knew what those teeth were for. But Bunty was a very clever little rabbit girl.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" she cried. "Make the Fox a soldier hat, and put it on his head!"

"Would you like a paper hat, Mr. Fox?" politely asked the bunny gentleman.

"Yes," growled the Fox. "I'll have a hat and then I'll take you off to my den."

"Sweet pickles for me!" howled the Fox.

Quickly Uncle Wiggily folded a soldier's hat out of the paper. He put it on the head of the Fox, pulling it down tight over the eyes of the bad chap.

"Here! Quit! Stop that! I can't see!" howled the Fox. "I can't see to take you off to my den with this hat over my eyes!" He tried to pull the hat off, but it wouldn't come! It was stuck fast!

And no wonder, for, before he had put the hat on the head of the Fox, Uncle Wiggily had squeezed a lot of glue inside the hat. Oh, how fast it stuck to the fur of the Fox!

"Gurr! Gurr!" he cried, but he couldn't pull the glued hat off his head, and then, as the bad chap was stumbling and falling about, Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty pushed the blind Fox out of the bungalow and locked the door so he couldn't come back in.

"Aren't you glad I came over to stay with you?" asked Bunty.

"Indeed I am!" said Mr. Longears.

And if the clothes post doesn't jump out of the back yard to play tag with the front gate, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Jenny Wren.

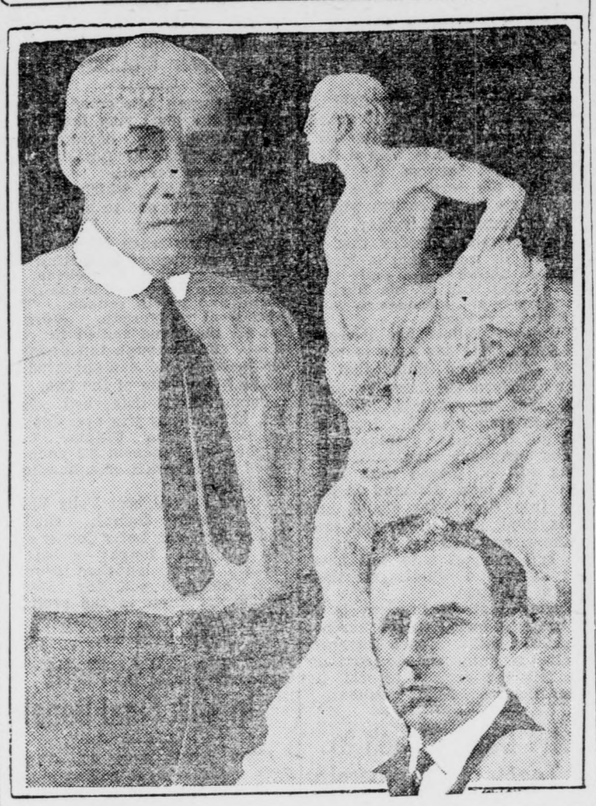
To Unveil Ape Statue

CARL E. AKELEY, at the left, and "The Chrysalis," and, insert, the Rev. Charles Francis Potter, who will unveil the statue which was rejected by the New York Academy of Design.



NEW YORK, April 23.—What next? New Yorkers keeping up with the moves and counter moves in the war in the churches over "fundamentalism" are wondering.

Carl E. Akeley's bronze statue, "The Chrysalis," which depicts a young man emerging from the form of a gorilla, and which was recently rejected by the New York Academy of Design on the ground that it lacked merit, is to be solemnly unveiled in the West Side Unitarian church the Sunday after Easter by the minister, the Rev. Charles Francis Potter. The statue will remain on exhibition an indefinite period.

Mr. Akeley, who will take part in the unveiling ceremonies, will address the congregation on "Personality in Animals," and will defend gorillas and other animals from the charges of "bestiality" which Mr. Potter and Mr. Akeley contend are frequently made by opponents of evolution.

The Rev. Mr. Potter's reason for taking what he said was an unprecedented but entirely justified step, is that it will be the opening move in a vigorous campaign against fundamentalists and will answer the attacks on the American Museum of Natural History recently initiated by his debate opponent, Dr. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Baptist church.

"When a man of science, who is also a great sculptor, has produced such a masterpiece as 'The Chrysalis,' which has a real spiritual message for the men of today, surely the church should recognize his work," he said. "The statue is not the gorilla but the man, who has risen above his animal ancestry. This statue shows the rise of man as opposed to the fall of man."

Mr. Akeley is connected with the American Museum of Natural History and the Rev. Mr. Potter notified the museum authorities of the proposed ceremony, with the result that Henry Fairfield Osborn, president, let it be known he was not willing to have Akeley's "Chrysalis" connected with the name of the American Museum of Natural History, because the museum is a public and municipal institution of an educational character only, which has no authority to express opinions on works of art in any way connected with a matter in philosophical dispute.

At Local Theatres

THE GLENDALE

"The Man From Brodney's" shows at the Glendale theatre for the last times today. In the cast are J. Warren Kerrigan, Alice Calhoun, Wanda Hawley, Miss Du Pont and Pat O'Malley. It is a Vitagraph picture, produced by David Smith.

Some of the high lights in this thrilling picture are: Rasula, native leader, plots to kill off the whites, and stirs the natives into revolt. Princess Genevra comes to the island to recuperate from the arduous life of the court in the Duchy of Rapp-Thorberg as the guest of Lady Deppingham, English heir to the isle. Chase's life is threatened by the natives. He joins the other whites on the island. An attack upon the beautiful mansion of the island by the natives follows. In the last hour, when Chase discovers the princess is in love with him and massacre by the natives is imminent, a warship arrives.

American women smoke cigarettes to use up their surplus energy, according to a New York health expert.

Salisbury Cathedral, in England, was begun in 1220 and finished in 1258. It has a spire 400 feet high.

THE GATEWAY

"Painted People," with Colleen Moore, Anna Q. Nilsson and Bull Montana, is the startling picture at the Gateway theatre today, a picture with one of the most extraordinary tales to tell that has been seen in many a day.

Colleen Moore and Anna Q. Nilsson vie with one nother for honors in their difficult and fascinating roles. A breath of vivid color is revealed by "Painted People." Others in the cast include Charlotte Merriam, Russell Simpson and Charles Murray. While the action is fast throughout, the characterizations are finely done. It is a picture that, once seen, will not be forgotten.

Vaudeville of "the better kind" is also on today's bill at the Gateway theatre, including some very "different" numbers.

For International News Service.

PARIS, April 21.—Frenchmen are only 66 per cent honest, concludes the newspaper Paris Soir as the result of an investigation in which 10 Frenchmen, chosen at random from a Paris city directory, five from each of twenty different walks of life, were used as subjects of analysis.

Couturiers are more honest than ministers of the gospel, tobacco dealers more honest than college professors, and newspaper editors more truthful than diplomats, the investigation proved.

Each one of the 100 men selected for the test received in his mail a letter signed by "Pierre Duval," reading:

"In reply to your letter, I enclose the sum of five francs in stamps, which I owe you."

Twenty-one of the recipients returned the stamps by the next mail. Thirteen, including three doctors and two cautious judges, wrote to the sender, requesting an explanation, after which they also returned the stamps which didn't belong to them.

First results thus showed an average of only 34 per cent honesty.

One church pastor naively wrote the sender, thanking him for the stamps received.

Some time later the Soir wrote second letters to each of the sixty-four men who failed to reply to the first letter. Thirty-two more replies were received, making the final honesty percentage 66.

Couturiers, judges, members of parliament and literary men scored perfect percentages, all returning the stamps which did not belong to them. Four out of five wine merchants never acknowledged either the first or the second letter. All but one each of the editors, doctors and tobacco dealers proved themselves genuinely honest.

"We must conclude," says Paris Soir, "that most of us pay more attention to our own affairs than we do to the affairs of others."

Five years after the close of hostilities, Paul Francois Charles, French war veteran, is still trying to convince the French Ministry of War that he is alive and well, and not dead and buried in the national cemetery at Bard-le-Duc, as the ministry would have him believe.

Charles has just been called upon by the ministry to designate the inscription he would like to have on his tombstone. His reply will be that he is alive and well, as he has assured the ministry on four different occasions since 1916, when, while on leave at his home in Bruay-les-Mines, his family was informed that he had been killed in action.

Charles reported immediately to his regiment, the 310th Infantry, effectively denying the report, as he believed. He went through the remainder of the war uninjured.

In 1920 he was notified, this time by the civil authorities of his own village, that he was officially dead. Again he presented himself, to prove the contrary and trusted the tangle was finally straightened out.

He failed to take into account the lack of comprehension and the abundant red tape of the ministry. In 1923, then living in Paris, he was notified to present himself at the Invalides Museum and receive the medal granted to him posthumously. Charles declined the invitation by letter.

Again at the beginning of this year the officially dead Charles was invited to assist at the ceremonies in connection with the transfer of his body from its battlefield grave to the Bar-le-Duc cemetery.

For the fourth time Charles notified the ministry that he was still alive, but the only reply was the request for a suggested inscription for his tombstone.

Charles is about ready to give up in despair, fearful that the next official letter will ask him to celebrate the anniversary of his own death.

Heart and Home

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

MOTHER AT 15

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I too, need some "mother's advice."

I married very young and was a mother at 15. I am now 21, and have another baby to care for, which I love to do. He is 6 months old and my little daughter 6 years old this spring.

Now comes my problem. Though she is our own child, my husband does not like my oldest. He says he never did and never will. But he loves the baby.

You know, that this hurts when she is ours as well as the baby. It is true she hasn't as sweet a disposition, but she can't help that.

Now I don't interfere when he is correcting but sometimes because he doesn't like her and when he is mad at her, I don't think he knows just how hard he does whip her. So when I do interfere he says I am no longer a girl, but just about old enough to take care of myself and the kids.

I used to say nothing while he was correcting the child, but, oh, it was all I could do. And after he told me what he did about not caring for her, I can't help but think of it when he corrects her.

Now, I'm not asking for sympathy. Every married couple has their troubles, I suppose. But I do want you to help me find a way out or tell me just what I can do to make my husband like my little daughter better than he does, and if you think there are any hopes.

Should I leave and try to do for myself, which would be pretty hard to do with the kiddies and the living to make?

I don't go anywhere and have no desire to run around. I just want a home to rear and school my babies in, as they should be.

My husband is not a kid. Far from it. He is twelve years my senior. What, in your opinion must I do? MRS. R. H. L.

First of all, don't leave home. Next gather up enough righteous indignation to tell your husband that he is brutal to the child and that on purely humanitarian grounds you do not intend to let him ever touch her again to punish her. Tell him that by his own admitted statement he does not care for the child, he has forfeited the right to whip her because such a punishment, even in love, is only to be used as a last resort, if at all. When administered without affection, it is unthinkable. Be careful not to spoil your child yourself. Be strict with her, but tender, and shower on her enough love to make up for the loss her unnatural father is causing her. Be as wise as you possibly can with her and her constant companion and her love for you will offset in years to come, any revolt against her father who may even develop an affection for her, once his brutality is curbed and something gentler allowed to grow in his heart. And last of all, don't cross bridges until you come to them. Live from day to day with your children and hope for the best in the bye and bye.

INDIFFERENT

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a young man two years my senior for several years and during that time have learned to care for him very much. He has a boy friend, however, who does not like me at all and tried to influence him against me.

On one occasion several months ago while we were both attending a dinner, but were not together during the evening he allowed me to go home alone at a late hour without offering to come with me. He went with his boy friend although he saw me leave alone.

Since then he has not come to see me and I have been going out with another girl. I like him very much and would like to know how to regain his affections. Or do you think it would be better to try to forget him and accept the attention of other young men?

SUN SET.

I think it would be better to try to forget your former sweetheart and accept the attention of other young men. Since you have not been with him for several months, it is evident that he is no longer interested in you.

* * *

THANK YOU: The girl's initial should be used.

SEALS ROMP ON TIGER PITCHER, WIN OPENING, 9-5

Visitors Round Courtney's Offerings to Every Part of Park

By R. C. FRANKLIN
For Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—Harry Courtney, elongated hurler, formerly with San Francisco, who was purchased by the Vernon club from the White Sox this year, was ineffective against the Seals yesterday at Washington park and the league champs of last season piled up a nine-run lead before Essick jerked the former Sox pitcher, resulting in a 9 to 5 victory for the northern squad in the opening series against the Tigers.

Keck, who relieved Courtney in the sixth, went along at a rapid clip, allowing the Seals but one hit in the remaining three frames, but his mates could not start a rally of sufficient size to overcome the margin obtained in the early innings. The nearest the Tigers came was in the seventh when Charlie Dwal homed with a couple of Bengals on base. One hit after this was the best they could garner off the delivery of Oliver Mitchell.

ANGELS 4, OAKS 5

OAKLAND, April 23.—In a hectic game here yesterday marked by the number of players participating and the banishment of Marty Krug and ten of his athletes by Umpire Bill Guthrie for protesting a called strike, the Oaks finally won. Score, 5 to 4.

"Skinnay" O'Neal toiled for the Angels and did not do so well. Walter Mails finished the game for the home-town crew and gets the credit for the win, which resulted from Durst's fumble in the ninth.

Heavy Entry List In Hollywood Tank Meet

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—Entries for the Hollywood Athletic club swimming meet scheduled for Thursday night, have poured in thick and fast lately and a flock of the best water stars in the south will be seen in action in the movie city tank. Added interest is being shown in the match between Helen Vernon and Olive Hatch, two of the fastest mermaids in southern California. These two stars will be seen in a special match race of 50 yards free style swimming and also in the 150 yard relay race for the Ripley cup.

Five-thumbed fielding by Rice Ruel enabled the Yanks to come from behind and beat the Senators, 6 to 3.

TILDEN MAY TURN PRO TENNIS STAR

Will Leave Association if Ward Makes No Apology for Bitter Attack

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—William T. Tilden, II, national singles tennis champion, added a word of mouth testimony to his letter to the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association, declaring that only the most complete vindication of his amateur status would persuade him to compete in the Davis cup matches and others under the auspices of the body in question. Tilden made it very clear that unless this vindication is forthcoming, he will no longer be seen on the tennis courts under amateur guise.

"The report of Holcome Ward, made public on Saturday, leaves me no alternative but to tender my resignation as a member of the Davis cup team and other teams protected by the United States Lawn Tennis Association," Tilden declared. "He and they have declared me an 'evil influence' to the younger generation in tennis. Rather than be that, I will step out of competition altogether. Upon being assured that Mr. Ward has made a mistake in his phraseology or that he was not justified in writing what he did, I will be only too glad to resume my tennis playing in defense of the Davis cup. Otherwise, I am through and glad of it."

Tilden was exercised over certain paragraphs in Mr. Ward's report to the amateur rule committee, referring to the champion by name as a bad example to the younger generation, by the fact that he made money out of tennis writing. He seemed to think that Mr. Ward exceeded the bounds of polite ethics.

Was Not Present

"The fact that he referred to me by name made his report a personal attack upon me," the champion said. "Mr. Ward is an estimable gentleman and undoubtedly knows very much about lawn tennis. As a rule he writes exceedingly good reports. In the present case, I cannot agree with what he says. He has characterized me by name as a menace to the good name of lawn tennis, and, if I cared to, I could riddle his report full of holes. I do not care to. I have been careful to do most of my talking to the tennis association. They have been careful to do most of their talking for the benefit of the newspapers. I leave it to the public to be the judge in the matter.

"Mr. Ward's report was not read while I was present," he added. "As a matter of fact, they excluded me from the meeting before he got around to the matter of making himself conspicuous at all. They simply bowed me out and in due season issued the report to which I take exception. In that report I am singled out by name and declared to be a bad influence upon young tennis players. I say now, and I say always, that unless Mr. Ward and the United States Lawn Tennis Association retract these charges immediately and publicly, I will never take a tennis racquet in my hand as a representative of that association."

AMERICAN LEAGUE

CHICAGO, April 23.—The White Sox were driven to fourth place yesterday by their defeat in a thrilling ten inning game with Cleveland. The score was 4 to 3.

After Speaker's crew scored six runs in the eighth, the Sox came back and scored three in the ninth, knotting the count. Sherrod Smith's single won the game.

Tournament Heads To Run Football Games Hereafter

The directors of the annual Tournament of Roses at Pasadena have thrown down the gauntlet to Pacific Coast football and decided to stage their annual football classic next year the same as usual.

Last year the game for a time was in doubt, and after it was played, the directors claimed that Washington and the Navy ran off with all the spoils.

They state that if necessary they will import two eastern teams to play, but come out flatfooted with the announcement that the football squads "will have to play our way, or we won't play."

Pancho Villa to Fight Genaro In Defense of Title

NEW YORK, April 23.—Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion, yesterday signed to defend his title against Frankie Genaro, American 112-pound champion, in a fifteen-round match in Brooklyn, the last of May or the first of June, according to Tom McArdle, matchmaker. Genaro has not yet signed.

The pair have fought three times, Genaro holding two decisions over the Filipino, while their other encounter was a no-decision affair.

LUNCHEON CLUBS WILL PLAY BALL

Exchangeites and Kiwanians Open Series; Winners Meet Rotarians

"Bob" Johnston, Glendale's replica of the famous Ban Johnson, had his diamond athletes out last night getting them in shape for their battle to the death with the Kiwanis baseballers.

The president of the Exchange club hurled a challenge at A. L. Baird, president of the Kiwanis club and, after much discussion, it was accepted, and the fur is expected to start flying very shortly. The winning team will challenge the Rotary club.

The Exchangeites played a practice game with the Legion last night, featured by said Bob Johnston's hook slide into third. The largest crowd of the season is expected to be on hand when these two popular luncheon clubs mix. There is one thing certain, that, if they play ball like they bowl, there will be fun galore in it for all the fans and spectators.

HIGH SCHOOL TO MEET ALHAMBRA

First Home Game of Season Will Be Staged Friday on Broadway Field

Coach Howard Butterfield is putting the Glendale High school baseball team through its daily workout, which ends with a five-inning battle between the regulars and the scrubs. The first home game of the season will be with Alhambra next Friday. Butterfield stated yesterday that he expected to work Charlie Smith, who has shown more stuff than any of the rest of his hurlers. Brooks may get a chance to work if Smith weakens.

"Breezy" Elliott has deserted the squad. He has gone to work after school and states that he cannot afford the time to baseball that it requires. Several men are after his job. Just who will get it is now problematical.

The postponed game with Monrovia will be played next Tuesday. The local diamond is getting into first class shape, and if anything, is a trifle too fast. Without any sod in the infield the ball bounces true, but hard, and keeps the athletes on their toes at all times.

Spring football practice is at a standstill owing to the absence of shower baths. Coach Hayhurst is already lining up his team for the fall and expects to win another Central League pennant.

Notre Dame Coach to Teach at University

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—Knute Rockne, famous gridiron mentor of the middle west, will arrive in Los Angeles the first part of July, according to announcement made in this city. The Notre Dame coach will assist in the summer session coaching school at the University of Southern California for a period of two weeks.

MORGAN WINS IN WHIRLWIND BOUT

Celebrates Return to Ring By Getting Decision Over McLean

Tod Morgan celebrated his return to the local ring last night by winning the decision over Stewart McLean at Doyle's maul emporium at Vernon.

The scrap was a whirlwind, and McLean has no one to blame but himself for losing. He worked too cautiously when Morgan was "gone," and instead of forcing the fight and gaining the decision, he managed to fight even in the first, second and fourth rounds. The third went to Morgan. Morgan lost all the blood spilled in the match, and although the decision was justified, McLean appeared to be the better man of the two.

Add Three Events to Women's Track Meet

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—Announcement made yesterday by Gwyn Wilson, graduate manager of U. S. C., states that three events have been added for the women's A. A. U. track meet at the Los Angeles coliseum, May 3. The new events includes a 50-yard dash, the 60-yard low hurdles and 220-yard four-woman relays.

SEMI-PRO LEAGUE TO OPEN SUNDAY

Form New Loop for Summer Months; Colored Stars Will Play Here

Frank Kerwin and other leading lights of Southern California semi-pro baseball have posted their forfeit money for the new summer league, and play will start next Sunday. The following teams comprise the league: Pasadena Merchants, El Segundo, Colored All Stars, Pacific Electric, Lankershim and Glendale White Sox.

The managers got together yesterday and all are making strenuous efforts to bolster up their teams for the race. A ten game schedule has been arranged with the three winners splitting a $300 cash prize. The team finishing first gets $150; second, $100 and third $50.

The opening games next Sunday have been arranged as follows: Pacific Electric at El Segundo; Pasadena at Lankershim and the Colored All Stars at Glendale.

With but a few changes, Carl Sawyer, who will be the White Sox skipper, will use the same team that has won every game against semi-pro teams since the close of the Triple A season. Dorman, star left fielder, has the smallpox, and will not be out for the opener, but will be in uniform a week from Sunday.

Archie Thornton will be the regular hurler, and he is good enough to stand most of the Southern California teams on their head. Sawyer announced last night that he had signed Grant Kuhns, U. S. C. star, to play in the outfield. Kuhne is a whale of a hitter and should materially increase the punch of the Sox at bat.

FINDS DIAMOND

J. Bergman, a diamond buyer in the famous district near Kimberley, South Africa, has come into possession of a diamond weighing 416¼ carats which curiously enough was found by a poor digger near Bynestpoort, which is near Kameelfontein. The prospector did not at first realize its value, but it is estimated at $150,000 easily. It is one of the brown variety.

DRAKE RELAYS TO DRAW 1500 STARS

Paddock to Make Appearance in Century Dash After Year's Absence

DES MOINES, Ia., April 23.—Headed by such track luminaries as Charles Paddock, of California; Charles Brookins, of Iowa University; Ayers, Hughes and Evans, of Illinois; Littinger, of Missouri; Reinke, of Michigan, and Eric Wilson, former Iowa sprinter, about 1500 athletes of this country will assemble here April 25 for the fifteenth annual Drake relays, one of the bright spots in national track activities.

Athletic Director K. L. Wilson, of Drake University, anticipates that 30,000 spectators will fill the Drake stadium to witness the spectacle, which will continue two days.

Paddock will be the center of interest. The former University of Southern California speedster will be featured in a special 100-yard dash.

Harold Osborne, former University of Illinois star, holder of the Drake meet record of 6 feet 6 inches in the high jump, will attempt to break the world's record of 6 feet 7 5-6 inches before he finishes his college career. He is credited with 6 feet 7 inches in practice.

An important Olympic games event, the 440-yard low hurdles, will be a special event for the opening day and will give coaches and trainers a chance to see their hurdlers in action preparatory to the international meet.

The quarter-mile, half-mile, mile, two-mile and four-mile relay races for the university section will be run the second day, along with finals in the dashes, hurdles and field events.

REALTORS HEAR STIRRING TALK ON VALUATIONS

Charles B. Guthrie, Official Of Seventh District, Is Luncheon Speaker

The eighth lecture in the educational course of the Glendale Realty Board was delivered at today's luncheon in the Presbyterian church by Charles B. Guthrie, vice-president of the seventh regional district, who spoke on "The Valuation of Real Estate." Mr. Guthrie said in part:

"In our business it is essentially important that the individual know the location, condition and value of his listings, and the most important of these is the value. It is with this element of VALUE that we will, therefore, deal more particularly, especially in view of the fact that your listings cannot be known to you in full unless you know the value of surrounding and similar property.

"There are two fundamental and essential requisites for a full knowledge of values. One is excellence and the other underlying principles growing out of the derivative definition of the word itself. Value means 'equivalent in exchange.'

Defines Experience

"Experience is, of course, something that no individual can impart to another. It may be governed by the element of time, but not necessarily so. My impression of experience is actual, continuous contact with a matter or condition or a business of sufficient duration to afford an intimate knowledge not gained in books.

"First, let me impress upon you that no set rules govern the value of property. Basically all value is governed by supply and demand. The former can not be increased in the case of real estate, because it is a well-established fact that 'in the beginning God created the heaven and the earth,' and no one disputes the fact that it was a thorough and complete job, and not an acre has been added to the earth since. This, then, immediately sends your thought off on a tangent, and your instinct as a broker causes you to realize that, as the supply is fixed, then the demand is variable, and as the population increases, so will the demand increase.

Cites Two Classes

"Demand, then, divides itself into two classes: insistent or immediate, which may be governed by necessity or desire; future or created, governed by growth or changes. In either case, we are brought from generalities to specific instances, and there is where the experience and knowledge of underlying principles, combined, suggest to the mind of the man who knows all the factors that go to make up an accurate determination of the value of the property for which the demand is expressed.

"The factors which govern the value of a specific piece of property must be closely looked into for a desirable feature in one instance may be a serious drawback in another, therefore no detail, no matter how trivial, should be overlooked.

"The student of his own business will look into every phase of the lot value, size, frontage, depth, width, soil, outlook, restrictions, proximity to schools, transportation, gas, water, light, telephone, stores, city conveniences, highways, wind, noise, dirt, factories, undesirable neighbors, storm drains, sewers, undesirable structures of any kind, chicken yards, goat corrals, pig pens, rabbit hutches, etc. A wonderful oak tree on a lot cannot overcome a pig pen next door or a reservoir across the street; the lack of gas and electricity cannot be overcome by a swimming pool; a wide, deep lot on a beautiful street cannot overcome a lumber yard in the immediate rear.

Farm Land Values

"Valuation of agricultural land is a study in itself. So many things enter into this branch of real property that to those interested or who specialize in it a special course of training should be had.

"The broker who exercises vision with a telescopic sight backed by experience and a general knowledge of the underlying principles that affect value will become a rich man.

"My message to you today is not a detailed list of things to look for—you may get that from the book—but, rather, to impress upon you the importance of the backbone of your business, a full and complete knowledge of values."

ATTEMPT MADE TO KIDNAP GIRL

Thelma Ungeheuer, 16, Tells Police of Two Bold Daylight Attacks

A bold daylight attempt to kidnap Thelma, pretty 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ungeheuer, 420 West Lexington drive, on Central avenue last night shortly before 6 o'clock was frustrated when the girl successfully fought off her attackers in two encounters and reached her home.

She was returning from a shopping trip in Glendale, and was crossing the intersection of Central and Wilson avenues, when two men drove up in a new four-door Ford sedan and attempted to engage her in conversation She paid no attention to them, and walked north on Central avenue. The men followed her for nearly a block, when the younger of the two jumped out and, seizing her around the waist, attempted to force her into the car. She fought him off and started on a run for her home on Lexington avenue.

Met Second Time

The men drove rapidly off in the car to Columbus avenue, turned north to Lexington drive, and met her after she had turned west off of Central to go home. The man again attempted to force her into the car, she states, and she again resisted his efforts. Fearing that her cries would summon assistance and result in their arrest, apparently, the men drove away rapidly and the girl reached her parents' home without being further molested.

She states that the men were strangers to her, but was able to give the police a good description of them both. She did not obtain the license number of the car.

According to her description, the younger man, who attempted to force her into the car was between 30 and 35 years of age, clean shaven, well dressed in a dark suit, about five feet nine inches tall, weighing around 140 pounds. The other man, who stayed at the wheel of the car, was described as being about 40 years of age, weight 180 pounds, dressed in a dark suit.

REPORTS FINDING GIRL ON WARSHIP

Admiral Issues Orders for Close Search of All Ships In Fleet

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—Sensational disclosures that a girl stowaway was found aboard the U. S. S. Arizona just after the Pacific fleet left Panama for Los Angeles harbor on April 12; that the girl declared other girl stowaways were on other vessels of the fleet and that a thorough investigation has been launched, were made today at Los Angeles harbor.

As a result of the startling condition, which has caused a furore in naval circles, it was learned, drastic action, including a detailed search of every ship in division four, has been launched by Admiral W. V. Pratt, in command of the division now at the harbor.

Name Not Given

The name of the girl found on the Arizona, the flagship of the battleship division, was not given in the official report of the scandal, nor was the purpose of her presence on board the vessel made known. Admiral Pratt, however, was said to have been highly incensed over the matter, declaring that the action of a few men in the fleet had brought discredit to the "home" of all the ships of the fleet.

In a dispatch to the personnel of the fleet Admiral Pratt is reported to have declared that the search to be made of other boats will be supervised by commissioned officers who will report to their executive that they personally had made a search of the ship under their authority and an investigation among the personnel to learn the facts concerning the stowaway and who was to blame for allowing her aboard.

KIWANIANS DINE, DANCE AS WOMEN PLAY HOSTESSES

Leap Year Party at Oakmont Country Club Proves Brilliant Affair

Escorts to the dinner dance at the Oakmont Country club last night were fair to look upon, for they were Kiwanisas, honoring Glendale Kiwanians at a jolly leap year affair.

In short the women did the honors, escorting husbands and sweethearts to the clubhouse, entertaining them at dinner and serving as hostesses at the dance later.

A clever scheme of seating the company at dinner was carried out, every one receiving a program bearing a number and dinner partners found each other by matching numbers.

The Kiwanis colors, blue and white, were effectively expressed in the use of white carnations and blue corn flowers on the tables.

Greets Visitors

Greetings from the Kiwanisas were given most graciously by Mrs. A. L. Baird, wife of the club president, who headed the clubwomen in arranging the leap year party.

She introduced Mrs. Fred Walton, who had arranged the entertainment program. There were delightful songs by the Virginia Freeman quartet, Gretna Cordary, Gladys White, Pearl Adair and Marjorie Yarick, and readings by Mrs. Max Lynn Green.

The quartet, unaccompanied, sang "Mighty Like a Rose (Nevin), "Kentucky Babe" and "Morning" (Oley Speaks). Later Miss White sang "The Delight of Out of Doors" (Gertrude Ross).

Mrs. Green gave two dialect readings, "Americano Girl" (Deley) and "The Hen" (Cook).

After this entertainment the women left the dining hall and marched back into the center of the room forming a letter K and singing a toast "To the Kiwanians."

Lead Grand March

An informal hour in the lounge room preceded the dancing, which began with a grand march led by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baird and other club officers and wives. Following the officers were Mr. and Mrs. William Bode and Dr. and Mrs. Edward Swift, recent bridal couples.

When the final figure of the march was formed the officers and Mr. and Mrs. Bode and Dr. and Mrs. Swift were left in the center of the floor and as the orchestra played the wedding march Mrs. Bode and Mrs. Swift were presented with corsage bouquets.

The dance program included a gentleman's choice, a Paul Jones and "Ladies' Cheat."

During the later part of the evening ginger ale was served through the courtesy of the Green Hill Beverage company.

Industrial Survey Of Glendale Urged

The need for an industrial survey of Glendale factories was again stressed by L. H. Wilson at the weekly luncheon of the Glendale Realty Board at the Presbyterian church today, when he cited the example of other adjacent cities where organizations of this nature have all data available for prospective settlers who are seeking sites for their plants. The matter will be taken up by the directors and some definite action is expected shortly.

The next lecture in the educational course will be delivered by W. L. Truitt, treasurer of the board, on May 6, when he will speak on "Finance."

The luncheon next Wednesday will be held at the Oakmont Country club, when Edwin T. Keiser, state real estate commissioner, will be present to discuss various points with the realtors.

A vote of thanks to the performers on the radio program of Saturday night was passed by the board.

Report Fifteen Pints Of Liquor Are Seized

I. C. Baker, 1127 Santa Fe avenue, Los Angeles, was arrested this morning at 2 o'clock on San Fernando road by Lieut Louis Nunn and Officer W. W. Hedrick. He will be arraigned before Judge F. H. Lowe tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, on charges of possession and transportation of liquor.

According to the charge sheet made out by the officers, fifteen pint bottles of liquor were found in a grip in his car at the time of the arrest.

PLAN NEW RULES FOR COLLECTION OF CITY GARBAGE

Revised Schedule Goes Into Effect First of Month, It Is Announced

The Glendale Evening News herewith publishes the new rules promulgated by the city health department for the collection of garbage, the boundaries of the different sections into which the city has been divided and the days of collection.

The revised schedule takes effect May 1, and it is suggested that you clip this and keep it for future reference. It will be found especially helpful to newcomers to the city who are not familiar with the regulations.

Garbage: (Quoted from the city ordinance) "The word garbage shall mean and include all animal and vegetable refuse from kitchens, all household waste that shall have been prepared for or intended to be used as food, or shall have resulted from the preparation of food, all table refuse and offal and every accumulation of animal, vegetable and other matter that attends the preparation, consumption, decay, dealing in or storage of meats, fish, fowls, fruits and vegetables. Dead animals weighing more than ten pounds, dish water and waste water are not included in the meaning of the term garbage."

Waste Matter

Waste matter: "The words waste matter shall be deemed to mean and include broken crockery, broken glass, ashes, cinders, shells, bottles, (not milk bottles), tin cans, metals and other similar non-combustible waste matter.

Garbage containers should always be placed on the curb the night before day of collection. (Where collections are made from alley, place container there the night before day of collection).

Garbage containers must be of galvanized metal and have a tight fitting galvanized metal cover and suitable handles on the outside for lifting; must be water tight (NOT LEAK), and when full must not weigh more than 100 pounds; must not contain any substance other than garbage—no paper, match sticks, cans, cardboard, broken glass, bottles, etc. If a leaky can is found, a red warning tag will be placed on the can and will be emptied at that time, but will not be again emptied until repaired or replaced. A City Ordinance requires that garbage cans must be thoroughly washed after each time they are emptied.

Collection of cans (waste matter) Containers should ALWAYS be placed out ON THE CURB the night before collection day. (Where collections are made from alley, place container there the night before day of collection).

Do not place any BURNABLE articles in with cans and bottles.

Automobile tires will NOT be collected.

Collector is not allowed to take milk bottles except broken ones.

Empty paint cans from newly erected buildings, pieces of pavement, concrete work, rocks, paper, wood of any sort, old shoes, etc., are not included in this collection.

Articles for collection should be placed in substantial wooden boxes or such other containers that will not come apart when rained upon. Crates should not be used, since articles are liable to fall through. To be collected, cans, etc., MUST be in containers, which, when full, must be no heavier than one man can lift.

If cans are not collected on the stated day—wait one day before making complaint—the collection may be so heavy that it may be impossible to cover entire district in one day.

No collections are made on legal holidays—collection must wait until next regular collection day. Take advantage of the second collection day in the month—usually the first day's collection is ten times larger than the second—hence more time is required to haul the load to the dump.

The city is divided into the following sections for collection of garbage and cans:

Northwest Section

FOR GARBAGE:—Boundaries: All that portion of the City north of Colorado Street (including both sides of Colorado) and west of Brand boulevard (including only the west side of Brand).

Collection Days: Mondays and Thursdays.

FOR CANS: —Boundaries: North of Colorado Street (including Kenneth Road, and west of Brand Boulevard (including west side of Brand)—west on Kenneth Road to Pacific Avenue—south on Pacific Avenue (including Monte Vista, Spencer, and Clement) to Glenwood Road—west on Glenwood Road to Highland Avenue, thence directly south "across lots" to San Fernando Road, striking said road at the "Wash."

Collection Days: The first and third Mondays each month.

The balance of the Northwest Section, "Grandview District," will be collected on the second and fourth Mondays.

Northeast Section

FOR GARBAGE:—Boundaries: "A"—East of Brand Boulevard GAL TWO—PLAN NEW RULES (including east side of Brand) and north of Colorado (including both sides of Colorado as far east as Adams Street—balance of Colorado, east of Adams, is included in the South East Section)—North to Mountain Street, thence west to junction of Glendale Avenue to Sinclair Avenue, south on Sinclair Avenue, to Wilson Street, east on Wilson to eastern city limits, off Wilson to include Richmond Avenue, Webb Drive, Broderick Avenue to junction of Vallejo Drive, and Harvey Drive to the junction with Hill Drive.

Collection Days: Tuesdays and Fridays.

Boundaries "B": Sycamore Canon, and streets adjacent thereto, and Verdugo Woodlands.

Collection Days: Fridays.

FOR CANS:—Collection Days: Cans in Boundaries "A" will be collected the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

Cans in Boundaries "B" will be collected the second Tuesday of each month.

Southwest District

FOR GARBAGE:—Boundaries: All that part of the City south of Colorado Street and west of Brand Boulevard (including west side of Brand).

Collection Days: Wednesdays and Saturdays.

FOR CANS: — Boundaries: Same as for garbage Southwest District.

Collection Days: First and Third Wednesdays of each month.

Southeast District

FOR GARBAGE:—Collection Days: Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Boundaries: All that part of the City south of Colorado Street and east of Brand Boulevard, including both sides of that part of Colorado that lies east of Adams Street.

FOR CANS:—Boundaries: Same as for Garbage.

Collection Days: First and Third Thursdays of each month.

SCIOTS PYRAMID PLANS TO STAGE MUSICAL COMEDY

Talented Authoress to Act Leading Character In Sparkling Play

"Say Listen!" is the greeting from the Glendale Pyramid of Sciots and the Tuesday Afternoon club to Glendalians in announcing the three-act musical comedy to be given May 1 and 2 in the auditorium at the Broadway High school.

"Say Listen" is from the pen of Miss Flora Kilpatrick, talented Glendale musician, whose voice is well known to local music lovers. The comedy is being produced by the Sciots' band and sponsored by the Pyramid of Sciots and Tuesday Afternoon club, both of which will benefit by proceeds.

The action of the sketch takes place on an estate of a South Sea Island sugar planter and introduced throughout the story are musical numbers from the latest New York successes.

Plays Lead Part

Miss Kilpatrick will be seen in the leading part. Her many friends will look forward to greeting her as author, actress and singer. Miss Kilpatrick came to Glendale from New York. She is the artist pupil of the late Francis A. Grant, who put her on concert tour in the eastern states after doing church work in New York for two years. She was the youngest church soloist there.

Miss Kilpatrick has been very active singing in concert with Hallett Gilberto and doing club and church work here for the past year. She has been very clever in staging musical comedies ever since she was 16 years old.

In "Say Listen" Glendalians will see Miss Kilpatrick's artistry in dialogues, choruses and costuming.

Members of Cast

Normal Kelch of Los Angeles is to take a leading part. Dan Bruce of Glendale will have another leading part. The villain will be portrayed by Don Shelmidine of Los Angeles, and Jack Lawrence will be the comedian. Miss Helen McPeck of Hollywood will play opposite Mr. Lawrence.

Artistic dances will be presented by Sarah Chandler and Lois Naudain, students of Miss Lindsay.

The chorus will be made up from the best singers and dancers in Glendale.

Music will be furnished by the Sciots' fifteen-piece orchestra from the Sciots' band.

Tickets on Sale

Tickets can be secured at the A. H. Dibbern Jewelry store, 121 North Brand boulevard; Beckers' Drug store, 114 North Brand boulevard; Poppy Shop, 125 North Brand boulevard; Glendale Pharmacy at Glendale avenue and Broadway; Halzer Candy kitchen, 113 West Broadway; Hub Pharmacy, Colorado street and Glendale avenue.

Each chorus in the comedy is to have a special chaperone for rehearsals and these chaperones are meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. H. Montgomery at 415 South Central avenue.

CALL OFF COURSE

Announcement has been made by the Director of the Branch of the College of Agriculture at Davis that the new short course dealing with farm machinery planned for the week of May 12-17 has been called off because of the foot and mouth disease epidemic. It has been necessary to protect the valuable herds at the University Farm and to minimize the possible spread of the disease caused by travel required to attend from many sections of the state. The announcement will be a disappointment to the many persons who had inquired concerning the new course and had made plans to attend. According to present arrangements the work will not be conducted until May of 1925.

L. A. EXCHANGE

By Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—Heavy liquidation in Los Angeles Investment, started on the floor of the Los Angeles stock exchange yesterday and continued today, forced a loss of 20 points when it was forced down to $4.10, the open this morning. It rallied quickly to $4.15½ but lost the gain almost immediately.

Gold Dust was the only active mining stock on the exchange this morning, steady at .02½. In the oils, United States Royalties opened at .19½ and advanced to .20. Union Associates was .51 at 51 3-4.

Southern California Edison sold steadily during today's trading at $101, heading the public utilities list. Julian Petroleum preferred was active, selling at $29.

CHICAGO WHEAT

By International News Service

CHICAGO, April 23.—Legislation, or even threats of it, having been worn pretty bare as a market influence, the grain trade today sought others and found little to stimulate it. Foreign news was colorless, and domestic news —mainly of good weather and big crops—bearish. As a result grains moved sluggishly and within narrow limits. Wheat closed 1-2 to 5-8 off; corn 1-8 to 1-4 off, and oats unchnaged to 1-8 off.

BUILDING PERMITS

Total for year 1921	$ 5,099,201
Total for year 1922	6,305,971
Total for year 1923	10,047,694
Total for 1924 to date	3,327,138

The cloudy weather evidently had a depressing effect upon builders, for only three permits were issued this morning by H. C. Vandewater, municipal building superintendent.

At noon the total for the year was $3,341,728, of which $538,519 has been issued in April.

The following permits have been issued recently:

H. A. Wood, dwelling, 327 Rondo End	$ 5,000
Percy Thompson, residence, 1833 Sycamore Canyon Rd.	4,000
James J. Anderson, 6 rooms and garage, 1236 Stanley	3,500

FINANCIAL BRIEFS

By Southland News Service

An offering of $17,000,000 Southern Pacific equipment bonds on about a 5.08 per cent basis is expected by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., probably today.

General Motors has declared today a regular quarterly dividend of 30c on common, $1.50 each on preferred and 6 per cent debenture and $1.75 on 7 per cent debenture. Common and dividend is payable June 12 to holders of record May 19. Other dividends are payable August 1, record July 7.

American Telephone & Telegraph registered shareholders have passed the 300,000 mark, approximately 19,000 more than on December 31 last. There is no sign of a letup in investment demand for the stock.

Responsible authorities expect resumption of dividends on Mexican Seaboard Oils. The last dividend was 50c quarterly in June, 1923, and dividend at same rate is expected if resumption is authorized.

Standard Oil of California reports for the year ended December 31, 1923, net profits of $24,442,339 after all charges and taxes, equal to $2.62 a share on the outstanding $32,704,322 capital stock of $25 par against net profit of $27,019,813 or $3.29 a share on $204,787,271 stock outstanding in 1922.

President of the First National bank of Fargo, N. D., has predicted 16 per cent cut in North Dakota's wheat acreage, half of which will be put to flaxseed and half to corn, alfalfa and clover seed. The crop will start favorably.

William Wrigley company income account for quarter ended March 31, 1924, is as follows: Earnings, $3,915,989; expenses, $1,507,665; depreciation and federal taxes, $382,861; net profits, $2,025,563.

Eighteen tankers left Los Angeles Harbor carrying 1,206,037 barrels of crude oil during last week; 68,271 barrels of fuel oil and 156,057 barrels of gasoline.

R. H. Moulton and Company has been awarded an issue of $150,000 Beverly Hills Water 5 per cent bonds for a premium of $1557.

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—The wealth of Elk Hills' oil region, known as Naval Reserve No. 1, was indicated today in a report on file with the federal district court clerk here, showing the production of the land leased to the E. L. Doheny interests for the week of March 24 to be 47,722 barrels of oil, 202,641,000 cubic feet of gas and 6,106,735 gallons of gasoline.

Following the filing of the government suit here last month for the cancellation of the leases, Rear-Admiral Harry E. Rousseau and J. C. Anderson, president of the Pan-American Oil company, were named as joint receivers over the property. The report was the result of their audit.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By International News Service

NEW YORK, April 23.—The stock market closed firm today. Retirement of bear contracts, coupled with some buying for investment account, brought about a good sized recovery. Oil stocks were in special demand. General Asphalt rose 1¼ to 33¼, Pacific Oil 1¾ to 47⅛, Pan-American Petroleum 1⅜ to 46⅜ and Houston Oil 1½ to 63½. Railroads held fairly steady with the exception of Norfolk & Western, which was heavily sold, yielding 2 points to 123½. Gains of 1 to 2 points were numerous in steels, motors, accessories, equipments, sugars, coppers, shipping and industrials.

Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

MAYOR'S ROMANCE

VENICE, April 23.—Taking rank with the "Cabin Boy to President" and from "Bootblack to Governor" is the rise of C. Gordon Parkhurst, from newsboy to mayor of this city. He is only twenty-nine, which is a record among public servants for this section.

FRUIT GROWERS

Attended by eighteen representative deciduous fruit growers from different sections of San Fernando Valley, Farm Bureau officials and members of the Agricultural Extension Service, the second meeting and dinner connected with the organization of a valley-wide Farm Bureau center for deciduous fruit growers recently was held in Van Nuys. A place and need in the valley for an organization of this type representing deciduous growers was thoroughly discussed and enthusiastic support pledged. The relationship of the proposed center to Chambers of Commerce, banks and other agencies of the valley was outlined. Discussion was held on the problem of subdivision of deciduous orchards. The presence of considerable acreage of such plantings which are suffering neglect following the activities of subdivision is felt by the valley growers to be detrimental to the valley as a whole, and efforts looking toward the continued care of orchards that are subdivided will be undertaken.

A meeting to arrange final plans for a membership campaign will be held Thursday, April 24. A general mass meeting planned for deciduous growers in the valley has been postponed because of the foot and mouth disease epidemic.

A temporary executive committee for the center chosen from representatives of the valley to act until final organization is complete is announced as follows: Van Nuys, John Russell; Encino Acres, H. H. A. Hastings; Owensmouth, Arthur Hoefer; Zelzah, I. S. Roach; Chatsworth, not filled; Burbank, not filled; Lankershim, Claude Gibbs; Reseda, N. T. Ruiz; Pacoima, A. J. Gibson; Mission Acres, A. M. Reid; and Roscoe, J. C. Hayes.

DEVELOPMENTS

More than anything else today Californians, and particularly those in position of importance, need a realization of the magnitude on which this country is building.

It has been the writer's privilege to travel over the state at frequent intervals and learn from developers as well as editors, business men and professional people the scope of California.

Individually each of these peoples appreciate the development of their own particular sector, but they cannot comprehensively coordinate California as an entity—or Southern California for that matter and see it in its biggest light.

To this day there are people in Riverside, San Bernardino and San Diego who are not aware that Los Angeles is a city of more than a million people—ten times greater than any of the other towns. Yes, and others not aware that San Pedro is one of the leaders in the list of southland cities' building, because its figures are a part of Los Angeles.

Yes, and one does not realize the importance of the harbor, or the importance of the industrial sections of Los Angeles. They think only in terms of tourists of twenty years ago. And few people think of Los Angeles as the third most important news center of the universe.

It is said that fully 60 per cent of the notables in the country either live here or maintain homes in southern California. And the mines of Kern and San Bernardino counties are the richest in silver of present day producers. Also, the oil production from this section has demoralized all other fields.

Yet we of southern California do not appreciate all of these things, according to indications the writer has noticed. We are too self-centered to get the broader aspect. Why, the expenditure of 50 cents gives the average resident of this southland more of a thrill than a $50,000 deal in New York.

There should be some broadening influence brought to bear on the civic and industrial and club life of this section if it is to really know its own country. Travel, investigation, and the publication of facts, rather than publicity "blabla" is an essential at this hour.

Southern California needs more information about itself. So does the whole state for that matter. But we must not expect to get it without working therefor.

CANCEL MEET

CHICO, April 23.—Because of the ubiquitous foot and mouth sickness the twenty-first annual encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans, California Department, which was to have taken place May 12 to 14, has been indefinitely postponed.

are 100 per cent successful in the drive they will launch tomorrow, the closing day of the $50,000 advertising fund drive.

The emblem of membership is a small, red enamel button, so attractive in itself as to stimulate a desire to join the club. With a population of 50,000, a 100 per cent enrollment in the club would in itself yield the whole $50,000 needed to tell America about Glendale, the women feel.

The button campaign is in charge of the Tuesday Afternoon club, Thursday Afternoon club and Business and Professional Women's club of Glendale, states P. B. Ogden, drive manager. Volunteer workers from among women of the city not affiliated with any of these organizations will be welcomed, he states, adding:

"Everyone should wear a 'Glendale 100,000 Club' button, regardless of how much previously contributed. Don't be afraid of oversubscribing the drive. The more money raised, the greater will be the advertising momentum given to Glendale in its 'big push' toward a population of 100,000."

Will Urge President To Lighten Embargo

WASHINGTON, April 23.—President Coolidge will be asked to intervene against recent embargoes placed upon California fruits and vegetables by nearby states as a result of the hoof and mouth disease epidemic there.

An appeal to the president to use his offices in ending the embargoes will be carried to the White House by Senator Shortridge, Republican, of California. This action was decided upon at a meeting of the California congressional delegation today.

Envoy Cables Denial Of American's Murder

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Official denial of reports that two Americans were slain in Albania in addition to George S. De Long of New York, and Robert L. Coleman of San Francisco, was contained today in a dispatch to the state department from Ulysses Grant Smith, the United States minister at Tirana.

Season's Fish Catch Is Menaced by Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—No settlement was in sight here today in the strike of Alaska fishermen. Alarm was expressed that if the strike is not ended soon, it will be too late to send boats north for the best of the fishing season.

Officers of the fishermen's union said today that attempts to man boats with "open shop" fishermen had been unsuccessful, only three boats having left here this month and none of these was completely manned.

Deny Autos Delayed By Quarantine Guard

VENTURA, April 23.—Denial is made here that county quarantine guards are delaying motorists from Los Angeles for any length of time. It takes about six to eight minutes to fumigate the passing motor cars and passengers are only asked to step out of the machine. Tourists with camping outfits, however, are delayed longer. Bus travel is on schedule.

START PILGRIMAGE

MARSEILLES, April 23.—One hundred and fifty Spanish pilgrims, including Marquis De Las Torres, after seeing King Alfonso and his sister, departed today for the Holy land.

LIGHTEN BAN ON RANCH PRODUCTS

Relief for Farmers Seen In Ruling Put In Effect By U. S. Officers

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—Requiring only the inspection and certification of federal authorities, California agricultural products may be shipped in interstate commerce despite the hoof and mouth disease quarantine bars erected by other states.

Giving hope to fruit raisers and other ranchers that their products will not be kept from market, the less stringent regulations went into effect today coincident with assumption by the federal department of agriculture of full charge of the battle against the disease in this state.

Lankershim Affected

Only two new outbreaks were reported today. Both were in Lankershim and both of decidedly minor proportions. One was in a two-cow dairy and the other in a small hog ranch.

Resort owners in the Sierra Madre mountains met today at Sierra Madre to consider closing mountain roads.

Cash Bonus Plan Meets With Defeat

to be offered to the bill is one by Senator Copeland of New York, who proposed a cash bonus instead of the paid-up insurance policies offered in the House bill.

In opening his attack on the bonus, Senator Underwood declared that war veterans would be "dishonored" by the additional compensation.

"I favor no bonus of any kind," Underwood said, "but if you are going to give the war veterans a bonus, I believe in being honest about it. I'm going to vote for the cash substitute."

Veterans Must Pay

The greater portion of Underwood's long speech was devoted to denunciation of all bonus legislation and the Republican insurance plan in particular.

"The veterans themselves will have to pay for their own bonus in the end," he said. "You should not dishonor them with dirty dollars."

Gila monster is a common name for a poisonous lizard technically called Heloderma suspectum.

Extend Invitation to Big Banquet Tonight

Every member of the teams that are working on the $50,000 advertising campaign for Glendale have been invited to attend the banquet at the Oakmont Country club tonight, when the organization of the Greater Los Angeles Association will be perfected by the Glendale committee, headed by Charles B. Guthrie, director.

The invitation has been broadcast over the city in order to embrace everyone who is interested in the industrial development of Greater Los Angeles, of which area Glendale forms such an important part.
